

Borah, McNary Refuse to Take Part in Joint Probe of TVA

Idahoan Criticizes Size Of 10-Man Committee

HITS AT METHOD

Oregon Republican Says His Time Too Limited for Quiz

Washington — (AP) — Two Republican senators appointed to a 10-man congressional committee to investigate the Tennessee Valley Authority today declined the appointments shortly after their names were announced.

They were Senator Borah (R-Idaho) and Senator McNary (R-Ore.), the Republican leader.

The two were named by Vice President Garner to serve with Senators Donahoe (D-Ohio) (D-N. H.) and Schwartz (D-Wyo.).

The other five members, selected by Speaker Bankhead included Mead, (D-N. Y.), Driver (D-Ark.), Thomson (D-Texas), Jenkins (R-Ohio) and Wolverton (R-N. J.).

Senator Borah criticized the size of the 10-man committee in declining to serve.

Must "Go Home"

Senator McNary said his time was too limited to undertake the task.

"I don't want to shirk my responsibilities," the Oregonian said, "and I appreciate the confidence the vice president has reposed in me, but I have to go to home, and I won't be able to run back and forth."

"I do not believe in investigation by town meetings," Borah said. "If the senate had appointed a committee of three, or five, or if the house had named a committee of its own, the investigation would have been satisfactory, and I would have been glad to have served on such a senate committee."

The Republican members named by Bankhead were recommended by House Republican Leader Snell of New York.

Garner told newsmen he had consulted no one, not even the appointees, before announcing the selections.

The joint committee will make a broad investigation of TVA ordered by congress following discussion among the directors of the TVA which led to President Roosevelt's dismissal of Chairman Arthur E. Morgan.

PRaises Inquiry

New York — (AP) — David L. Lilienthal, one of the directors of the Tennessee Valley authority, said today a congressional investigation of the TVA was "a fine thing." A joint resolution calling for an inquiry by congress was signed yesterday by President Roosevelt.

Lilienthal, returning from a vacation cruise on the French liner Lafayette, said he had been out of touch with recent happenings.

"I welcome the inquiry and I think it will be a good thing to clear the atmosphere completely," he said. "The earlier inquiry did that partially."

He declined to comment on the president's dismissal of Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, former chairman of the TVA.

Sturgeon Bay Sheriff Solves Theft on Hunch

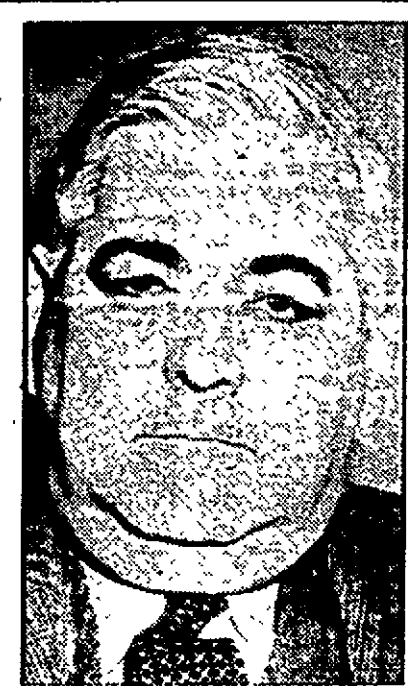

Sturgeon Bay — (AP) — Sheriff Walter Olson related today how he solved a theft by playing a hunch that guilty persons, in talking about their crimes, often have dry throats.

The sheriff said a young girl, treasurer of a church society, and her married sister came to him recently to report a theft of $20 from the society's funds.

Later, when he went to see them to ask about further clues, Olson noticed the older sister frequently excused herself from their discussion to get a drink of water.

"You took that money," he challenged the next time she returned. She confessed, he said, and returned the money. The pleas of the sister and the church pastor saved her from prosecution.

KILLERS OF MOTHER, DAUGHTER SOUGHT IN TEXAS

Hardly had Weston G. Frome (center) arrived at Van Horn, Texas, to aid in the search for his wife, Hazel (left), 46, and their daughter, Nancy (right), than peace officers found the bodies of the two women. They had been clubbed to death and their bodies left side by side in the sun-baked brush country. The sheriff of El Paso, Texas, hinted today that the slayings were the outgrowth of a robbery plotted in that city. Two men and two women suspects were being sought for questioning.

Paper Industry in Plea for Retention Of Present Tariff

Warns U. S. Experts Against Concessions To Canada

Washington — (AP) — Representatives of the American paper manufacturing industry, appealing today for continuance of present tariff protection, warned government experts any concessions granted to Canada in a revised reciprocal trade agreement might permit manufacturers in other countries to increase their sales in the American market.

D. C. Everest of Rethchild, Wis., president of the American Paper and Pulp association, told the committee for reciprocity information that importation of even the fraction of 1 per cent could lower the price level of the entire paper manufacturing industry.

He said that during the last 25 years American manufacturers had watched the production of newsprint shift from this country to Canada and considered that this constituted their contribution to the reciprocal trade program.

Newsprint Production

Everest said that production of newsprint in Canada had increased from 350,000 tons annually to 5,500,000 annually while production in this country had steadily declined.

"In my opinion," he said, "it is virtually impossible to recapture newsprint production for the United States."

Everest declared American paper manufacturers opposed concessions to Canada not so much because they might benefit the Dominion but because they feared the concessions would be extended to other countries producing higher grades of paper. American mills, he said, deprived of newsprint business, have shifted to the production of the higher grades.

Since 1928 the major development in the paper industry has been in food packing, he said.

June 15 New Date To Finish School

PWA Grants Extension on Plea of Board of Education

Extension of time for completion of the new senior high school to June 15 has been granted by PWA authorities in Washington. The board of education was informed today. The original arrangement with PWA officials and with contractors called for completion of the building on March 1, and application for extension had been made about Feb. 24.

The announcement was made in Washington yesterday, a few days after a conference of A. E. Eschweiler, Milwaukee, with George J. Schneider and PWA officials. Mr. Eschweiler is a member of the firm of Eschweiler and Eschweiler who are associated with Smith and Brandt, Appleton, as architects of the new school.

In the application for extension, the board of education cited unfavorable weather, disrupted working days and failure of certain materials to arrive as reasons for failure to complete the building within the time limit originally set.

Bank Burglars Get Only Small Amount of Cash

Mt. Calvary, Wis. — (AP) — Bank burglars who labored all night to break into the vault of the Mt. Calvary State bank here were frightened away early this morning with only a small amount of change from the cashier's drawer as their loot, Sheriff G. W. Bower of Fond du Lac county revealed today.

The intruders were gone when the bank building was opened at 7:30 a. m. today, Bower said. They had gained entrance some time last night through a basement window, broke through a two-foot brick wall into the bank vault, and had begun to cut into an iron safe with an acetylene torch when frightened away.

The safe contained between $5,000 and $6,000 the sheriff said.

Two Men and Two Women Are Sought as Suspects in Torture Murders in Texas

El Paso Texas — (AP) — A hint that the torture murders of a California society matron and her daughter on Texas' mesquite plains was the outgrowth of a robbery plotted here came today from Sheriff Chris Fox as officers searched for two men and two women suspects.

The victims, Mrs. Weston G. Frome, 46, and her 23-year-old daughter, Nancy, were found mutilated and clubbed to death near Van Horn, Texas, Sunday.

El Paso officers entered the investigation, Fox said, "since there is some feeling certain events leading up to the deaths of Mrs. Frome and Nancy originated in this city."

Fox did not elaborate.

Think Four Persons Involved

Piecing together random bits of information, authorities advanced a theory that four persons were involved in the crime.

Search for the two men and two women followed reports by E. M. Wells, division highway engineer at Pecos, that he had seen the Frome car near Balmorhea, with two women in it. Later two soldiers near Balmorhea saw the Frome machine with two men in it.

Wells said that closely following the Frome car was a large dark coupe containing two men. The soldiers reported they also had seen a coupe answering the same description given by Wells, with two women in it, one a decided blonde.

Officers said neither Mrs. Frome nor Nancy answered the description.

Retreating Chinese Slow Up Jap Advance

Shanghai — (AP) — Turning stubbornly in their tracks, Chinese retreating from the ruined city of Tai-chowang again slowed up the Japanese drive today toward the Japanese railway, east-west transportation artery of central China.

Taking advantage of night-time relief from Japanese artillery and aviation, Chinese dug patchwork defenses along the Grand Canal and Japanese admitted severe fighting still was going on near Tai-chowang, center of a 17-day battle.

Chinese still did not admit Jap advance had occupied all of the city, and asserted that attacks at Yeh-sien, Hanchowang and Taohowang provided a constant rearward fighting threat to the Japanese.

Japanese pressed an eastward flanking movement toward Pih-sien and Kwangshu, east of where the Grand Canal bends southward and crosses the Lunghai line. Their object appeared to be to cut the Lunghai at Yunho where the canal and railway intersect.

Milwaukee Child Saves His Younger Brother

Milwaukee — (AP) — Three-year-old John Kaeppl's left arm was caught in a washing machine yesterday but his 4-year-old brother, Albert, turned off the machine in time to save John from anything worse than a bad bruise.

The Kaeppl family is quarantined for measles. John and Albert, fired of their toys, played with the washing machine while their mother, Mrs. A. C. Kaeppl, was preparing lunch for her nine children.

Apparently Albert turned on the washer, Mrs. Kaeppl said, because he hid in a closet while she tried to find him to praise him for saving John.

100 Towermen Ordered To Forest Districts

Temahawk, Wis. — (AP) — Assignment of 100 towermen to their stations in "fire protection districts" of Wisconsin two weeks earlier than usual was announced today by E. J. Vanderwall, chief forest warden. Early spring and drying forests dictated the move, he said.

Catalonia Is Cut Off From Rest of Spain

Insurgent Forces Attain First Objective in Spring Campaign

VALENCIA IS MENACED

Communications Between Two Big Coastal Cities Are Severed

Hendaye, France, At the Spanish Frontier — (AP) — Spanish insurgent armies, driving to win the civil war this spring, cut Catalonia from the rest of government Spain to accomplish their first great objective and swept on today toward Barcelona, their enemy's provisional capital.

A secondary advance was moving toward Valencia.

Communications between these two major coastal cities remaining to the government were severed yesterday when insurgents reached Tortosa, looking down upon the Mediterranean.

Machine-guns and field artillery raked the road from Tortosa, rendering useless the last highway link between Catalonia and the rest of government Spain, which includes Madrid and Valencia.

Generalissimo Franco's troops were preparing to occupy Tortosa itself.

An insurgent communique announced their troops had pushed six miles to the north, east and south of Tortosa, leaving the central sector of the Catalan front. Government troops were said to be in full retreat, presumably to take a desperate stand in fortifications stretching between Balaguer and Borja Blancas, approximately in the center of Catalonia.

With insurgents moving north and east from Tortosa and east from Lerida, their two columns could join for what might be a decisive battle at these government defenses—about 60 miles west of Barcelona.

A third column, meanwhile, was moving south from the Tortosa sector, towards Castellon de la Plana, 37 miles north of Valencia. These troops occupied Morella and moved forward on the road to San Mateo.

Take 1,000 Prisoners

Armies commanded by Generals Solchaga and Moscardo occupied the whole right bank of the Noguera Ribagorana river, north of Tortosa.

Spencer Facing Murder Charge in Grier Slaying

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. — (AP) — Vernon Spencer, Wikom, Mich., dairy farmer and former National League baseball player, will go on trial tomorrow on a murder charge in connection with the slaying of Miss Helen Grier last fall in a north woods hunting cabin.

Spencer was not in court today when a grand jury true bill was read charging that "On Oct. 29, 1937, in the township of Whitman, district of Algoma, province of Ontario, Vernon Spencer did murder one Helen Grier." The maximum penalty on conviction is death by hanging.

Physicians said the death of Miss Grier, former stenographer at Battle Creek and Pontiac, Mich., was caused by a 22-caliber bullet wound and a skull fracture. Spencer, who played baseball with the New York Giants and the Toronto Maple Leafs before he became a dairy farmer, insisted he found the body when he returned to the cabin after searching for Moose tracks.

Refuses to Accept Post As Stevens Point Chief

Stevens Point — (AP) — Carl F. Kitowski, six-month probationary period as fire chief expires April 25. Yesterday he sent the police and fire commission this note:

"My probationary period as fire chief being nearly over, I wish to inform the commission that I do not desire to take over the duties of fire chief, but prefer to be reinstated to my former position of policeman."

The commission was surprised. It frequently had praised his work. Kitowski refused to explain.

Blum's Demand for Decree Powers Creates Uproar; Session Suspended

Paris — (AP) — Premier Leon Blum's demand for sweeping powers to control France's economic life by decree today threw the chamber of deputies into such an uproar that its president, Edouard Herriot, suspended the session.

This came half an hour after debate began on the premier's financial program, which many political observers predict will cause his downfall.

Opponents Try to Force Changes in Organization Bill

Committee Sends Tax Revision Bill To Senate Floor

Says Measure Will Clear Way for Business Improvement

Washington — (AP) — The finance committee sent to the senate today the revised five billion dollar tax revision bill with a statement that the measure would clear the way for business improvement.

Numerous changes made in the measure by the senate committee included elimination of the administration-sponsored undistributed profits tax, which the house had continued in a modified form.

Senate debate on the measure will begin at noon tomorrow.

In its report, the finance committee said that "the major amendments proposed by the committee have been adopted with the view of going even further than the house bill in an effort to stimulate and encourage business."

"If business goes ahead, and there is no reason why it should not go ahead under the provisions of the bill as reported," the report added, "then there will result more taxable net income, with a consequent increase in the revenue."

Before the committee forwarded the measure to the senate, Norris (I-Neb.) said he would oppose the committee's recommendation for eliminating the undistributed profits tax.

Action Next Week?

Leaders have been hopeful the tax revision bill would win senate passage by this weekend, but attempts to broaden the tax base, and processing taxes and to levy excise taxes on imported pork and canned beef may delay passage until next week.

In its report, the committee asserted that its bill would raise about $20,000,000 more than that approved by the house on the basis of present business conditions.

"But this estimate," it added, "leaves out of account any added revenue which your committee is certain will result from increased business activity."

"In making its recommendations," the report said, "the committee has also given special attention to the needs of the small business."

5 Dead, 7 Hurt in Elevator Blast

Spontaneous Combustion Believed to be Cause Of Tragedy

New Orleans — (AP) — A thunderous blast which sent a white hot sheet of flame roaring through a work of 50 feet through an open window to the top of a grain bin, He suffered a broken back and second degree burns of the body.

All the injured were painfully burned, battered and shocked.

Cause of the explosion had not been officially determined but Assistant Elevator Superintendent Y. W. Cahoon said it undoubtedly was due to spontaneous combustion.

John McKay, general manager of the dock board which operates the elevator, said "definite knowledge of the cause of the explosion cannot be determined at this time." He announced an investigation immediately.

The elevator, built at a cost of $4,000,000 and housing a dust-collecting system that made it one of the cleanest grain elevators in the world, suffered comparatively little damage.

McKay said the plant would resume operation by the end of the week.

Burlew Is Confirmed as Aide to Secretary Ickes

Washington — (AP) — Ebert K. Burlew won senate confirmation today as first assistant secretary of the interior department. His appointment had been opposed for three months by Senator Pittman (D-Nev.).

Burlew was nominated last Dec. 20 by President Roosevelt to be chief aide to Secretary Ickes. Pittman forced hearings by the senate public lands committee to investigate alleged irregularities in the interior department.

Buckman Hearing Recessed Because Of Election Day

Proceedings are Expected To Require Entire Week

Milwaukee — (AP) — Some 2,500 exhibits were stamped today for identification in the preliminary hearing for officials of the B. E. Buckman company, bankrupt Madison securities firm charged with violating the state "blue sky" security laws.

The hearing, under District Judge Harvey Neale, was in recess for a day because of the city election. The truckload of exhibits was stamped to speed the hearing when it resumes at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Action in the case was expected to consume the entire week.

Defendants are E. E. Buckman, company president; Louis C. George, vice president, and Edgar C. Holt, secretary-treasurer. All were in court yesterday as the hearing opened.

The complaint charges 20 violations of sale of unregistered securities.

Cendor Stock Cited

In his opening statement yesterday Bruno Bitter, Milwaukee, special prosecutor appointed by Governor LaFollette, charged the Buckman company with being both the owner and underwriter of a block of 150,000 shares of Cendor Pictures, Inc., stock which was sold in Wisconsin.

Bitter cited the sale of the Los Angeles Cendor firm's stock as an example of "merry-go-round financing."

Instead of buying the stock directly from the Cendor company, Bitter said, the Buckman firm bought through brokerage houses or through George.

"The Buckman company bought the stock through a Chicago broker for $2.65 a share," Bitter said, "and sold it to the Wells Kendall company for $2.90 a share. The officers of the Kendall company also were officers of the Buckman company—these defendants. The Kendall company sold the stock to a brokerage house at $3.20."

"The agents of the Buckman company, without registering the stock, bought it for $3.25 a share."

Green Bay Utility Is 2nd in Safety Contest

Green Bay — (AP) — The Wisconsin Public Service corporation, winner of last year's national safety contest award for the best safety record among utilities in the United States, was informed by the council today that it is in second place in this year's contest, which ends June 30.

The Green Bay utility had nine accidents in the past eight months. Virginia Electric Power company in first place nationally with only eight accidents. The Green Bay utility won the national award last year for the third time since 1928.

Diplomats Eye Growing France-Poland Coolness

Warsaw — (AP) — A growing coolness between France and Poland—nominally allies—held the attention of diplomats here today.

The French ambassador, Leon Noel, who departed over the week-end for Paris, is gone, according to the French embassy, "for an indefinite period."

But well-informed Polish sources declared he is never coming back. Shortly before his departure, Noel conferred with the Polish foreign minister, Colonel Joseph Beck, and Polish sources said, retroactively, that he had been subpoenaed for continued siding with Germany at critical moments.

Have Little Hope of Killing It, but Push Amendments

3 PROVISIONS HIT

Oppose Welfare Bureau, 3-Man Civil Service Body

Washington — (AP) — Representative Snell of New York, Republican leader, hammered away anew at the administration's government reorganization bill today when the house reopened debate on that fiercely-fought measure.

He began his attack after opponents had successfully blocked Democratic leaders' efforts to limit debate and bring the bill to a final vote.

Snell disputed Democratic contentions that congress had given the same reorganization powers to Herbert Hoover, Republican president.

Such contentions, he asserted, are "not true statements of fact."

He added that the powers, which the house approved in 1932, related only to executive departments of the government. In contrast, he read provisions of the pending bill which he said gave President Roosevelt power to reorganize or consolidate "any" agencies.

"You would give the president the power to transfer any part of any agency—get that," Snell shouted.

The crowded galleries applauded, drawing a reprimand from the chair, when the Republican leader said that even though Republican forces were small they would vote firmly to maintain a "constitutional government."

Before the house returned to the scrap over reorganization, opponents said they expected two Texas Democrats, Representatives Summers and Lanham, to throw their weight against the legislation.

Washington — (AP) — Republicans and revolting Democrats virtually abandoned hope today of killing the government reorganization bill in the house, but concentrated instead on trying to riddle it with amendments.

Although granting that concessions made by administration leaders probably would swing enough votes to pass the measure, the opponents sought to strike out three more controversial provisions.

Those provisions would create a new welfare department, substitute a single administrator for the three-man civil service commission, and create an auditor general to check up on federal expenditures.

Elimination of these sections would strip the bill of everything except general presidential authority to consolidate and revise federal agencies, and permission to employ six White House assistants.

Under a compromise by administration leaders, the president's reorganization orders could be overridden by a majority vote of congress. Various agencies, including the veterans bureau, could not be incorporated in other departments.

Democratic backers of the bill were so confident of eventual victory that they made no attempt to complete a poll to determine how the members would vote.

Representative Rayburn of Texas, Democratic floor leader, declared in a radio address last night that the legislation would have been passed months ago "had it not been made the opportunity for the demonstration of hostility by the president's foes."

"There is no politics in the measure," he said, "no departure from the principles or policies of the republic, no change in any of our institutions and no thought except to simplify the processes of government."

Cheboygan, Mich. — (AP) — Paul Duffina, 41, was held in the county jail here today as sheriff's deputies investigated the fatal beating of Mrs. Margaret Duffina, his widowed mother.

Deputy Sheriff John Krueger said Mrs. Duffina was killed with a stick of firewood. Her skull was crushed. The slaying took place at the family residence in Mackinaw City.

Propose to Relax Restrictions on Railroad Loans

Federal Advances Proposed to Roads in Receivership

Washington — (U) — Administration business advisers gave serious consideration today to proposals to relax restrictions on federal loans to railroads in receivership.

One representative said such loans would supplement financial aid already being extended to railroads not in receivership.

They would fit into whatever program Mr. Roosevelt may advocate for restoring distressed roads to profitable operations. He is expected to send a message on the railroad situation to congress in the next day or so.

Many informed persons believed the administration was depending heavily on revival of the carriers to aid general business recovery.

Broaden RFC Loans

A more direct attack on the recession as far as the average business man was concerned, however, was foreshadowed by house passage of the senate bill to give the Reconstruction Finance corporation almost unlimited discretion in making loans to commercial and industrial enterprises.

The bill also carried authority for loans to municipalities and other political subdivisions for self-liquidating public works, opening the way for a renewed outflow of federal millions into the channels of trade.

Senate approval of a single house amendment will send the RFC bill to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature. That amendment eliminated a provision that loans to railroads must be approved by the interstate commerce commission.

Administration officials said the requirement was not needed because it was already a part of the law under which the RFC operates. In effect, the ICC now must certify that the line receiving a loan can be expected, on the basis of present and future earnings, to meet its fixed charges.

Administration advisers contemplate proposing that congress relax this restriction so the RFC may have a freer hand in approving loans, especially to roads in receivership.

Such loans, one informant said, would be made only to roads having sound financial prospects. Those "hopelessly in the hole" would be unable to obtain aid. In many cases the latter then would have to merge with more profitable lines.

The president's message on railroads was to accompany a special ICC report which was the subject of a conference yesterday between Mr. Roosevelt and representatives of railroad labor and management.

One proposal suggested at the meeting, authoritative persons said, was that the government guarantee the railroads a fair and profitable level of earnings so they could maintain wages and employment and get needed new equipment.

Some of the labor spokesmen told the president that the increase in business which could be expected from a resumption of railroad spending probably would pull earnings up far enough to make guaranty payments unnecessary.

Fixes Wage Rate for Sugar Beet Laborers

Washington — (U) — Secretary Wallace established today "fair and reasonable" wage rates for sugar beet laborers in the production, cultivation and harvesting of this year's crop.

The law requires, as one of the conditions of payments to growers, that all persons employed in the production of sugar beets and sugar cane shall be paid wages at rates not less than those that may be set up by the agriculture department.

The amount of benefit payments authorized to be distributed growers is set at $48,000,000 a year.

The secretary set up seven sugar beet districts with a separate scale for each. Rates included:

District 1—Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin; blocking, thinning and hoeing, $11 per acre. Weeding and topping, $7 for seven tons or less per acre, plus $1 for each ton per acre in excess of 7 tons per acre.

CIO Strikers Surrender Possession Of 13 Utility Plants in Michigan

Detroit — (U) — The Consumers' Power company exercised full control today over its plants—an authority seized previously by CIO union strikers—and mediators undertook to clear up loose ends remaining from the strike settlement.

Strikers relinquished possession of 13 power plants in large Michigan cities late yesterday upon accepting a compromise which required the company to pay $100,000 for four months' expired contract with the company, but there still remained for solution the puzzle presented by three unions' claims to bargaining rights.

This puzzle was turned over to the national labor relations board, an observer to ten and a half hours of continuous conference under Governor Frank Murphy's guidance which eventually brought forth the agreement. Plants were returned to company control almost directly. Strikers had seized them Friday night but continued operations to consumers.

Contract Renewal

The labor board must act on a problem of apparently as much importance as the demands of the utilities workers organizing committee, CIO affiliate, which called the strike last Friday night to enforce a contract renewal and head off "wage reductions."

Two other unions, both parties to the state conference, claim major-

Democratic Rift Not Likely To Have Great Influence on Senatorial Primary Races

(Editor's note: Political orators are tuning up their voices for the primary election campaigns, ready to "point with pride" or "view with alarm." Factors which may enter into these intra-party contests are outlined in three articles, of which the following is the first.)

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington — (U) — The rift between the conservative and so-called "New Deal" elements of the Democratic party, created by the court bill fight and widened by the struggle over government reorganization, may have but a limited influence on senatorial primaries this year.

Eight of the Democratic senators who joined the court bill opposition early in the fight are up for renomination. So far only two of them—Van Nuys of Indiana and Gillette of Iowa—are facing strong opposition within their party.

Many observers predicted late last summer that the administration would make reprisals against foes of the court bill almost without exception, although Democratic Chairman James A. Farley declared there would be none. So far, at any rate, there has been virtually no outward show of punitive moves.

Situation in Indiana

Even in Indiana there has been no proof that the national Democratic leadership initiated the party break with Van Nuys. Indiana leaders say it resulted from many causes rooted in state politics, and that the court fight was only the excuse for it.

Of significance in the general political picture is the fact that none of the most aggressive leaders of the court bill opposition has to stand for reelection this year. Wheeler of Montana, Burke of Nebraska, Byrd of Virginia—all come up in 1940.

Aligned with the opposition, however, were these six Democrats whose terms are expiring—Clark of Missouri, George of Georgia, Lonergan of Connecticut, McCarran of Nevada, Smith of South Carolina, and Tydings of Maryland. To date have given them little reason for dissent. Rumors that the administration might take a hard line against George are yet to be confirmed. The Roosevelt strategy thus far appears to have been one of "quarantine" rather than attack—to leave most critical Democratic senators frigidly alone on the theory that the voters, by and large, want pro-administration men in congress.

2 Other Hoosier Candidates

In Indiana, where both major parties will nominate at conventions in May, a stiff fight is in prospect among the Democrats for the seat of Van Nuys. If he loses the nomination, as the state party leaders say he will, he is expected to run as an independent.

Two other candidates for the nomination are in the field—Samuel D. Jackson, Fort Wayne lawyer, and Alex E. Gordon, Indianapolis labor leader.

Several anti-administration senators, including Burke, have declared their intention to aid Van Nuys' independent race.

Senator Gillette's opponents in Iowa include Representative Otha D. Wearin, who announced his candidacy after what he described as "conferences at the White House." While the implication was that Wearin had administration backing, Gillette has declared that the administration is not against him.

More intense that the fights involving anti-court bill senators are several developing around supporters of the measure.

Governor A. B. Chandler of Kentucky has come out against Senate Majority Leader Barkley, and the campaigning in that state until the primary Aug. 6 promises to be as lively as any in the country. Mr. Roosevelt has thrown administration support to Barkley by stating his appreciation of the senator's work.

Hull Will Fight Cuts in Tariffs On Dairy Products

Tells Reciprocity Committee Agreement Has Injured Industry

Washington — (U) — Representative Hull (D-Wis.) protested today against any further reduction in tariffs on dairy products in a revised reciprocal trade agreement with Canada.

Hull told the committee for reciprocity information concessions granted on dairy products in the Canadian agreement negotiated in 1935 had injured the dairy industry in the northwest.

"You are driving our dairy farmers into tenancy by putting them into unfair competition with these foreign products," he said.

He declared the dairy industry in Wisconsin was on the decline, the number of dairy farms having decreased from 180,000 to 169,000. The number of cows, he said, had decreased 400,000 in the last few years.

Referring to President Roosevelt's recent speech at Gainesville, Ga., in which the president referred to "feudal" conditions in the south Hull said:

"I wish the president might come up to Wisconsin. He would find there 60,000 dairy farmers whose averages gross annual income last year was less than $1 a day."

Hull said federal land bank loan delinquencies in Wisconsin were the highest in the country.

Sees Future Threat

The congressman said concessions granted to Canada on dairy products eventually would be extended to other foreign countries regarded as more serious competitors by the Wisconsin industry. He described New Zealand as the greatest competitor on butter and also mentioned Australia and Argentina as potential exporters of dairy products to this country.

Hull also protested against lowering of duties on fur foxes. He said such action would "put the fur industry under the previous Canadian treaty."

The congressman said the price of dairy products was fixed in the world market and "the only thing that prevents the wiping out of the dairy industry in the northwest is the tariff."

Chairman Henry F. Grady of the reciprocity committee challenged some of Hull's statements regarding the effect of the 1935 Canadian agreement on the Wisconsin dairy industry.

"I notice," Grady said, consulting what he described as "official" figures, that "after we 'ruined' the cheddar cheese industry prices increased. In 1932 before this agreement was negotiated cheese was selling at 10 cents. In 1936 it was selling at 16 cents. The trade agreement certainly did not ruin the cheese industry."

For Newspaper Quota

Representative Luecke (D-Mich.) asked that a quota of 300,000 tons annually be set for newspaper imports. Such a quota, he said, would be "not only a help to paper manufacturers but a boon to pulp producers."

He suggested that since Canada is the source of 90 per cent of the newspaper imports, its quota should be 270,000 tons.

"It was a reciprocal trade agreement," Luecke said, "that sent the paper manufacturers out of the country and a reciprocal trade agreement should bring them back to the country."

He said although the nation's newspaper capacity was 1,500,000 tons a year, it had produced only 900,000 tons last year.

Chairman Grady called the congressman's attention to last year's importation of 3,300,000 tons of newspaper.

"What you would do," the chairman said, "would be to cut the quota 90 per cent. That is a very modest proposal."

Luecke also asked that the duty on fresh fish imports from Canada be increased from 1 cent to 5 or 6 cents a pound.

He asked further protection for the broom and mop handle industry which he said would "pack its bag and go to Canada" unless it were given adequate protection.

Await Affidavit In Jerome Welsh Extradition Case

Suspect Says He Was Not In Illinois at Time Of Slaying

Madison — (U) — Deputy Attorney General Leo T. Vaudreuil awaited today a final affidavit in the extradition hearing for Jerome Welsh, who is wanted, State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county, Illinois, said, in connection with the death of William Hancock, Antioch, farmer, in 1932.

Attorneys for Welsh, J. M. Weisman and J. C. Wilbershede, said they would produce an affidavit from Welsh saying he was not present in the state of Illinois at the time of the crime or at the time it was planned. Hancock was robbed and killed.

The attorneys offered to supply this proof after Mason had introduced an affidavit purported to have been signed by Joseph Nemmer, Racine machinist detained by Lake county authorities in the same case, claiming he and Welsh were in Illinois at the time the details of the robbery were planned.

Affidavit

Vaudreuil who refused to recommend an earlier plea for extradition on the grounds Mason had not proved Welsh was in Illinois at the time of the crime or during its conspiracy, said he would delay his recommendation to Governor LaFollette until the Welsh affidavit was received.

In addition to the warrant charging murder, presented at the first hearing, Mason asked for extradition on a charge of conspiracy to rob.

Mason claimed the evidence contained in Nemmer's affidavit supported both charges.

Counsel for Welsh opposed introduction of the affidavit, saying it was a direct contradiction of the confession they said he made to Racine county District Attorney Oscar M. Edwards March 17. At that time, Weisman said, Nemmer declared Welsh did not accompany the men to Illinois at any time. He said Welsh was the victim of a revenge plot concocted by Edward Leonard, Racine, who is also being detained by Lake county authorities in the Hancock case.

Keller Testifies

Former assistant United States District Attorney L. Hugo Keller of Milwaukee, called by Weisman to testify, said Leonard had told him he planned to "get even with Welsh" when he had to frame him. Keller said Welsh clinched Leonard's conviction on a Dyer act charge in 1935. Welsh was exonerated of a similar charge.

Weisman repeated previous arguments, claiming Mason had not proved Welsh was a fugitive from justice, that the extradition papers were not properly authenticated, and that they did not comply with federal and Illinois statutes.

Banking Problems are Discussed at Conclave

Madison — (U) — Approximately 500 Wisconsin banking, economics and industrial representatives were assembled today for the first annual conference on banking problems.

The conference will start at 2 o'clock p. m. in the University of Wisconsin's Memorial union building. It will end tomorrow afternoon.

The Wisconsin Bankers' association, state banking commission, and university school of commerce are sponsoring the meeting. Six university faculty members and a number of state and national leaders in banking and related fields will speak.

Principal speakers at tonight's banquet will be Bray Hammond, of Washington, D. C., technical advisor of the board of governors of the federal reserve system, and Clarence Hill, president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association. Herbert F. Probst, chairman of the state banking commission, will preside at the opening session.

TAKES OWN LIFE

Prairie du Chien — (U) — Dr. J. J. Jane, acting county coroner, said today Charles Koniecz, 55, hanged himself last night, apparently after one unsuccessful attempt, in the tool shop of which he had been foreman 15 years.

agreement should bring them back to the country."

He said although the nation's newspaper capacity was 1,500,000 tons a year, it had produced only 900,000 tons last year.

Chairman Grady called the congressman's attention to last year's importation of 3,300,000 tons of newspaper.

"What you would do," the chairman said, "would be to cut the quota 90 per cent. That is a very modest proposal."

Luecke also asked that the duty on fresh fish imports from Canada be increased from 1 cent to 5 or 6 cents a pound.

He asked further protection for the broom and mop handle industry which he said would "pack its bag and go to Canada" unless it were given adequate protection.

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN W. WYNGAARD

Madison—Most persistent of the rumors circulating in Wisconsin Republican circles just now is that Edward J. Samp, G. O. P. voluntary chairman, is the man to be watched during the next couple of months.

Samp has been the only active Republican leader in the state. While other party officers went about their own affairs, seemingly only mildly interested in the approaching 1938 elections, Samp since last fall has been busy with organization work. Visiting almost half of Wisconsin counties during the last six months, he has organized a considerable number of new Republican clubs on a dues paying basis, which, he hopes, will be the nucleus for the Republicans' campaign personnel and treasury this fall.

During those same months it became generally understood that Samp was the most likely offering of the party for the senate this year. This Samp refused to comment upon, as he does today. Recently, however, such reports have gained greater currency, until now it is said that he is prepared to resign his unofficial post of leadership at an early meeting of the voluntary committee.

Incidentally, this column learned for the first time the other day that Samp is a former resident of Cecil, Shawano county.

G. O. P. CHATTER

Among the this state Republicans are talking about now are these: "The probable candidacy of Mark Catlin Sr., of Appleton for congress in the Eighth district on the Republican ticket. Catlin, father of Assemblyman Catlin of the first Outagamie district, and a former legislator himself, is willing to run, according to party gossip, if the party will put on a good campaign in the district.

The wisdom of holding campaign plans in abeyance until Governor LaFollette decides what to do this year. In the meantime reports from the localities suggest that the party is working at getting the all-important county machinery in order. The seeming abundance of Republican congressional timber in Rep. Gerald J. Boileau's seventh district (central Wisconsin). Potential candidates at the present time, it is said, are Charles Smith of Wausau, 1936 convention keynoter; Reid Murray of Waupaca; and A. W. Prehn, prominent Marathon county lawyer. Murray, according to information reaching the capitol, will probably announce himself soon.

The possibility of drafting Alexander Wiley, 1936 candidate for governor, as a candidate for senators this year. Also mentioned, in addition to Samp, is Stephen Bolles, Rock county voice of the party, long-time leader, and prominent editor and publisher.

That the May 14 convention of the Young Republican group at Oshkosh promises to be a heated affair. Assemblyman Catlin and Elmer Honkamp of Appleton, district leaders of the Republican-Democratic coalition organization, will again try to swing the convention for coalition. Besides Catlin, Richard McMillan of Fond du Lac and Charles Hawks of Horicon will arrive as candidates for the presidency of the organization.

MORE COUNTIES?

While students of government and those interested in administrative economies advocate consolidation and drastic reductions in the number of government units, proposals were aired in two widely separated sectors last week to increase the number of counties.

In Dane county, in which the state capitol is located, there is a movement afoot to separate the city of Madison and the outlying rural areas and to make Madison a new county. In Douglas county it is proposed to do the same for the city of Superior.

In both cities complaints are that urban interests are sorely underrepresented on the county board of supervisors, although they have the bulk of the population and pay most of the tax bill. This is brought into public view once more a problem which the city of Appleton brought into the legislature last session, and which the legislature declined to solve.

Wisconsin cities, although they have grown rapidly, and frequently at the expense of the townships, have with few exceptions failed to get a proportionate increase in their county board representation. The arguments of the dissatisfied citizens of Madison and Superior can also be applied to such cities as Appleton, Manitowish, Racine, Kenosha, and others.

PAPER PROBLEMS

There hasn't been any official word yet, but the new department of commerce, headed by William F. Ashe of Kaukauna, will be particularly concerned with the problems of Wisconsin's important paper industry, on which the economic conditions of the Fox river valley so largely depend.

On several occasions lately state officials have heard that conditions in the Wisconsin paper industry are not what they used to be. The rapid depletion of near-by sources of raw materials is one of its most urgent problems. Growing competition in other parts of the country is also a cause for concern. In the South, particularly, great strides are being made in the development of a paper industry whose promoters intend to put to commercial use the millions of acres of southern pine which can be harvested with cheap labor right in the neighborhood of the mill.

For such reasons was the new commerce department created. And on such problems will Director Ashe, who will be at the capitol full-time in about a month, be expected to work.

It may be noted that the LaFollette administration was not at all sure of being able to get Mr. Ashe for the new director's job when his name was suggested originally. The Kaukauna paper mill executive took a substantial cut when he accepted the $7,000 state job, according to authoritative sources.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS

Municipal elections in all parts of Wisconsin today remind some Progressive leaders that they have been traditionally unsuccessful in efforts to carry local elections.

Strangely enough in many localities where Progressives carry large majorities for their state and legislative candidate, Progressive municipal candidates trail behind, to the chagrin of some leaders who believe there is no good reason why party politics should not be applied locally as well as in broader governmental spheres.

Some Progressive spokesmen claim that non-partisan spirit in municipal elections is a myth, that conservatives capture local offices under its guise. Only Wisconsin city where party labels play a part in local elections is Milwaukee. Progressives tried a couple of years ago to take over the capital city hall, and although the home of the LaFollette is heavily Progressive, the move was a failure.

ODDS AND ENDS

Gleanings from a LaFollette press conference: John B. Chase, prominent Oconto county lawyer, former judge and legislator, is in high regard at the capitol. . . . the state government is entering a lean period, and capital departments must trim administrative expenses . . . the bulky, 600 or 700 page annual or biennial reports of the big state commissions, which are frequently published too late to be of much use to anybody, are soon to be replaced by current periodical releases of departmental activity of popular interest. . . . the governor is watching the state relief problem very closely and is concerned lest the state relief fund will be exhausted before the 1939 legislature meets.

Impatience With President Found In Administration

Sensational State of Affairs Brewing in Departments, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington—Inside the administration, in some of the important agencies and departments, there's a sensational state of affairs brewing. It is not as extensive yet as it may ultimately become and is confined to present to some of the more important advisers of the president in past years. It is, in a nutshell, an attitude of impatience and dissatisfaction with the wavering and indecisive attitude of Mr. Roosevelt toward the whole business situation.

To find the president's own appointees talking privately in tones that frequently amount to indignation and resentment is not only so extraordinary that it is important to report it even in this guarded way but it is a reflection of the not-very-statement which must be broken if business is to improve at all.

Naturally, these advisers do not dare to be quoted. In a dictatorship, their heads would be lopped off and a "purge" would be in order. But these men are as eager for the success of Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal as he is himself.

They merely differ with him on the course he has pursued in the last three months.

Two groups or divisions exist, and their reasons for dissatisfaction are entirely different.

Wants "Pump-Priming"

The first group wants "pump-priming" and wants it right away, believing that the business situation will grow dangerously worse unless the whole New Deal may be swept out of power in the autumn elections unless the government spends again on a wide front. Mr. Roosevelt's refusal to heed this advice has naturally produced a reaction.

The second group wants Mr. Roosevelt not to resort to "pump-priming" again, believing it will lead to a worse business crash later on when the second cycle of "pump-priming" is exhausted, and that business must be built on firmer foundations. This set of advisers feels the president is on the right track when he declines to start spending again, but they are annoyed at Mr. Roosevelt's refusal to do the one thing that they consider vital counterpart of a non-spending policy, namely a restoration of business confidence through a drastic change in the administration's attitude toward business and the system of private capital generally.

What the second group complains about mostly is that the president has got all tied up with controversies like the reorganization bill, which, while of broad-gauged importance, is not the prime requisite of the hour at all. They feel that Mr. Roosevelt is not coming forward with the economic policies that will encourage business.

Personal Quarrel

Running through some groups which do not have a particular plan for the administration to follow, but which feel a general lack of morale, is the oft-repeated statement that the president is making the whole situation into too much of a personal quarrel, that he is taking personal affront at criticism and that he is thinking of the problems of government in their personal relation to himself. His "dictator" statement, for example, caused profound disappointment because it all revolved around his own personal likes and dislikes and did not strike at the fundamentals.

Most asked around here is "who is advising the president?" Stories are being told of this and that adviser who tries to gain the ear of Jimmie Roosevelt—important officials at that—and who come away with a sense of despair when they realize that, to get things done in the great government of the United States, it becomes necessary to convince the president's son of the seriousness and gravity of the whole economic situation.

Perhaps some of all this is just the jittery overflowing here from financial and business centers or produced by the long face wars by so many of the visitors who come here with a for-God-sakes-do-something clamor. But, anyway, the executive leadership which has been looked for by the New Dealers is not forthcoming.

The "left" is unhappy and disgruntled. The "right," if this be the proper way to describe the more moderate of the president's

University Staff Members to Speak At Farm Meeting

Kaukauna—A farm program for farmers of the eastern half of Outagamie county and adjacent parts of Brown and Calumet counties will be held from 1:15 to 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Kaukauna High school gymnasium, it was announced yesterday.

Two University of Wisconsin professors and R. C. Swanson, Outagamie county agricultural agent, will speak. A general discussion after the speakers will be led by Dr. W. C. Sullivan of Kaukauna.

Dr. B. A. Beach of the university will talk on "Bang's Disease Program for Wisconsin," with Swanson speaking on the same topic. Professor E. D. Holden will discuss grain projects and their place in supervised practice work. He will meet with the high school agricultural classes also.

Nicolet, Park School Rope Jumpers in Tie

Kaukauna—Nicolet and Park school pupils tied, two and two, in the annual rope jumping competition held yesterday morning at Park school, according to Clifford H. Kemp, high school athletic director. In the sixth grade competition Carol Schley and Rosemary Stegeman, Nicolet, defeated Eleanor Schmidt and Betty Welter, Park, 120 to 98.

In the fifth grade competition Kathryn Ann Stearns and Florence Wuyts, Park, defeated Jean Steinhagen and Kathleen Fernald, Nicolet, 108 to 105. In the fourth grade contest, Marian Hilleger and Beverly Weidenbeck, Nicolet, beat Ann Hilgenberg and Elton Sandkuyl, Park, 120 to 113, and in the final match Gertrude Koehne and Joy Melchert, Park, beat Carol Flynn and Patsy Gorchals, Nicolet, 94 to 86.

Athletic Council to Meet at High School

Kaukauna—The city athletic council will meet at 6:45 Thursday evening at the high school, Paul E. Little, acting principal, announced yesterday. The distribution of awards will be brought up, and the giving of a basketball banquet as in former years discussed.

advisers, is depressed and bewildered, too.

Revolt Open Secret

In congress, the revolt among the former supporters of the New Deal is an open secret. From long years of experience, one may say that, when members of the party in power begin to talk critically of their own president it is a sign that, back home, the people are really beginning to turn away from the party in power.

Broadly speaking, the present situation is not unlike that which has faced other presidents in the latter part of their terms of office. But it has much more significance now because the administration is in a dangerous spot politically. For it does not take much knowledge of national affairs on the part of the average man to make him inquire why he should give his confidence any further to an administration which has spent more than $20,000,000 to get the nation out of a depression, especially when the administration boasted that it had "planned it that way," and yet there are millions of people out of work altogether or on part time jobs.

What good, asks the average citizen, did the $20,000,000 do? And maybe the administration hasn't a monopoly on all the wisdom of the times and also it might be wiser to take the advice of the business men, big and little, who have the responsibility for making the economic system work, but who declare themselves frustrated at almost every turn by a president who stubbornly insists everybody is out of step but he and that only the "selfish few" are blocking national recovery. Small wonder that inside the administration there are rumors of resignations in a body to impress upon the president that he must change his policies if he expects to keep the economic situation from further disintegration. Certainly, to use a stock term, government morale has struck a new low for all time right here in Washington.

3 Major Buyers Fail to Support Slow Steel Rise

Auto mobiles, Railroads,
Structural Fabricators
Consume Little

Miscellaneous buyers of steel products are contributing sufficient tonnage to continue the slow rise of production despite absence from the market of the three leading consuming industries, automobiles, railroads and structural fabricators, says Steel.

Little immediate support can be expected from the automobile industry. Some builders plan to end production of present models as early as June, with steel supply nearly sufficient for their needs. Work on 1939 models is being advanced to start the new season earlier than usual.

Railroads show no inclination to buy and the market at present is clear of inquiry. New York Central is nearly ready to issue its rail requirements, which usually are out much earlier.

An increase of about 10 per cent in general buying was experienced during March, some steelmakers fortunate in booking a few large orders attaining 20 per cent more than in February. Bars have been most active among heavier products. Some plate makers booked less business in March than February.

Good Demand
Galvanized sheets are in good demand, leading the lighter forms of steel. Work is also active, with sheets and strip doing fairly well, despite absence of automobile and radio demand.

With the same number of stacks active as in the preceding two months daily average production of pig iron in March gained 25 per cent over February. March daily average was 47,851 tons, compared with 46,665 tons in February. Total output in March was 1,483,368 tons, compared with 1,306,333 tons in February, an increase of 13.5 per cent. For first quarter total production was 4,234,563 tons, compared with 3,710,217 tons for the same period of 1937, a decline of 56.5 per cent.

Producers of semifinished steel are booking considerably better tonnage for nonintegrated companies. This consists of sheet bars, wire rods, billets and other forms and indicates a broader market for finished steel, in which the smaller producers are receiving a better share than during the past several weeks. In the case of one mill its bookings of this sort have increased 20 per cent over February.

Small Increase
Continued small increases in production rates, with minor reductions at two points, carried the national operating rate up 1 point last week to 38 per cent, which is the highest level since the second week in November, when it was 39 per cent. Pittsburgh advanced 2 points to 32 per cent, Chicago 1 point to 32.5, Youngstown 1 point to 30, Cleveland 1.7 points to 33.5, New England 2 points to 20, and St. Louis 9 points to 46.5. No change was made in Eastern Pennsylvania at 29 per cent, Wheeling at 41, Buffalo at 30 and Birmingham at 66. Cincinnati dropped 27 points to 18 per cent, following its staggered schedule, and Detroit 9 points to 18 per cent. Schedules for this week at several points call for higher rates.

Some fairly good tonnages of structural steel were closed last week, practically all for public work. Sheet piling totaling 2500 tons for a navy waterfront improvement at Alameda, Calif., has been placed; 2500 tons for a bridge in connection with the West Side elevated highway in New York; 2420 tons for a bridge over Trinity river, Texas; 1575 tons for a Washington-Idaho state bridge over Snake river; 1350 tons for a building for the World's Fair, New York. Westinghouse Electric and Mfg. Co. is considering bids on 2000 tons for a building at Springfield, Mass.; rebuilding of Manhattan bridge, New York, calls for 3600 tons and various tunnel, bridge and approach needs in the New York area involved 8850 tons. A gas holder at Waterbury, Conn., has been placed, requiring 1400 tons, practically all plates. In spite of these large items, however, structural steel are about half the total for first quarter last year.

Imports Decrease
Steel and iron imports in February were 19,589 tons, 33.4 per cent smaller than in January. For two months the total was 37.9 per cent below the corresponding months of 1937. This is an unusual condition in the face of increasing exports and results from heavy demand from Europe and the Far East, which absorbs the export tonnage of countries ordinarily selling in the United States. The shrinkage is reflected in practically all steel and iron items. Decline in value of imports is much less marked, because of higher average prices.

Automobile production gained 2100 units last week over the previous period, to a total of 58,900. Chrysler and Ford increased assemblies but General Motors and smaller builders fell off slightly. General Motors completed 21,930, compared with 23,166 the previous week. Chrysler 14,576, compared with 12,225; Ford 14,385 compared with 12,060; all others 8010 against 9335.

Weakness in scrap at Chicago, where steelmaking grades declined 50 cents, and a smaller recession in Eastern Pennsylvania, brought the composite price of scrap down 21 cents to $12. This is the lowest level since the first week in December. The iron and steel composite declined 4 cents, to $38.71, for the same reason. The finished steel composite is steady at $61.70.

Eugene Fountain Is Elected Head of Lumbermen's Club

McDermott, State FHA Official, Is Speaker at Meeting

Eugene J. Fountain was elected president of the Fox River Valley Lumbermen's club at a meeting last night at the Conway hotel at which H. P. McDermott, Milwaukee, associate director of Federal Housing Administration in Wisconsin, was the principal speaker. Fountain succeeds Lothar C. Graef.

Before the crowd of about 40 lumbermen, McDermott explained provisions of Title I of the act relating to modernization and construction of non-residential buildings and construction of residential units. He pointed out the importance of receiving approval on location for construction of new residences, a clause under Title I.

The FHA official discussed the 90 per cent loans under Title I and said that the requirements have not been made more lenient.

Safeguards in the new liberalization were outlined by McDermott as follows: (1) Properties securing mortgages must be newly constructed or have been built since Jan. 1, 1937 and before Feb. 3, 1938. They must neither have been occupied nor sold since completion. (2) Plans must be approved by the FHA before construction opens if the mortgage is to be eligible for insurance. (3) The mortgage must be the owner and occupant of the property.

All projects on which mortgages are to be insured will be economically sound, McDermott said.

Blum's Demand for Decree Powers Creates Uproar; Session Suspended

The general political opinion was that the bill would be passed by the chamber and voted down by the senate.

Political experts accorded the premier only a slight chamber majority, however, and predicted a heavy adverse vote in the conservative upper house, bringing his automatic resignation.

The premier's bill by which he hoped to attain sweeping authority contained only 10 words. It gave him the right to decree all measures "judged indispensable to meet the necessities of the national defense, protect the holdings of the bank of France and rehabilitate the nation's finances and economies."

Blum demanded that the lukewarm chamber of deputies and the hostile senate vote him full decree powers. Rightists reacted at once with the charge that his program was "a plan for a Marxist (socialist) dictatorship and revolution."

New Activity Is Help in Meeting Human Problems

Adopt Hobby or Avocation, Mundie Says at PTA Meeting

Adopting a hobby or avocation or learning to perform another job besides the one you work at daily is the best way of curing mental illness brought on by over-couring human problems, Dr. Paul J. Mundie, head of the social science department of Marquette university, said in a talk before the Edison Parent Teachers association last night in Edison school.

Dr. Mundie, an authority in the field of mental hygiene, spoke on "Mental Health for Normal People" at the meeting, attended by about 75 persons.

By finding another interest, a person establishes a second outlet for his energy, the doctor pointed out, and is better able to meet the problems that threaten mental stability. He declared that in present day America, security is the great concern of all. By learning another job or a hobby, a person not only will find solace but will provide another method of earning a living should he meet with misfortune in his regular work.

The chief cause of mental illness, the doctor said, is the inability to cope with problems, such as loss of work with the consequent financial difficulties. These problems are most frequent in depression years and affect persons in the age range from 20 to 40 most severely.

OUR MODERN AGE

POLITICAL CRITICISM

When political criticism has no place in the lands that are ruled over by dictators, it has proven to be the very life blood of our power and democracy.

Throughout our entire history it has given our country the necessary impetus to go forward to world supremacy.

While such criticism is suppressed in the lands of dictators it has ever burned fiercely in this, our land of the free. It is because our leaders have had access to both sides of every question that our country has thrived so gloriously on such criticism.

All of us are entitled to freedom from ill health if we can keep our body from any distortion and follow a proper diet. Committee Purchases $5,000 Patrol Grader Purchase of a motor patrol grader from Bremer and Sinc company, Green Bay, for $5,024.24 was made by the county highway committee at the courthouse yesterday. Bids on two light trucks and two scraper blades will be considered at a meeting Wednesday.

Meeting jointly, the police radio committee and highway committee purchased six motorcycle receiver sets complete with equipment at a cost of $900 from the National Cycle and Repair company, Oshkosh. Four bids were considered. Action on precinct receiving sets was deferred until next Monday.

The police radio equipment is being purchased for the various municipalities in the county. The motorcycle sets will be used by the Appleton and Kaukauna police departments.

Receiving sets are now being tried on city police cars.

Public Funds Used For Selfish Aims, Honkamp Declares

Politicians Seek to "Perpetuate Themselves", Jaces are Told

"There is a common tendency among many politicians to appropriate public funds for the purpose of perpetuating themselves in office," Elmer R. Honkamp, county Republican chairman, said in a talk before the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at Hotel Appleton.

Honkamp, pointing out that the Jaces would ultimately be the experienced leaders in the community, advised them to study local and national government structure and operation.

The spending of money by politicians to further their own political aims "means a centralization of power at public expense," Honkamp said. "Today the interest on the government debt is 50 per cent of the total government expenditures during the 1920's," he declared.

The county Republican head struck at the "abuses of relief" and said that many politicians were using it as an agency for their own selfish purpose.

Fifteen men were nominated as candidates for election to the board of directors. The terms of five directors expire this spring. The election will be held at the meeting May 2.

Nominations named last night are as follows: Harold Aykens, Harold Finger, Harry Hoeffel, George Howland, Roy McNeil, Clarence Miller, Henry Williamsen, J. T. Harder, Dr. L. B. McCabe, Chester "Red" W. O. Gruett, R. C. Swanson, James Van Rooy, Jr., Harold Stout, and Wilmer Krueger.

Louis Butterfield, Sr., Green Bay, a member of the executive board of the state federation of labor, will head the labor officials at tomorrow's conference.

Better to Visualize Blind Cards

BY ELY CULBERTSON
The player who concentrates on the cards in his own hand and those exposed to the dummy, whether he is in the position of declarer or defender, is not performing his work properly. It is impossible to play good bridge without at least a sketchy, or tentative, mind picture of the unexposed hands. Players who have heretofore made little or no effort to visualize the two hands that are hidden from them will be surprised at the ease with which this can be done in countless instances. Let us sit in declarer's seat in the following deal.

Neither side vulnerable.

With no interference bidding North-South reached a contract of four spades. Cover the East and West hands and let us follow the play, with no more information that can reach declarer legitimately. West opens the heart ace and shifts to a low club. As declarer, we see that if we can draw spades without loss, and lose no diamond trick, and if we then get a 3-2 club break, we need lose only two tricks in all. So we start to draw trumps. We lead low to the spade ace and return the eight to the king. West shows out, thereby placing East with the remaining 10. We can, of course, pick up the jack on a finesse, but first, hadn't we better make sure of our four diamond tricks? If diamonds fail to break and all of our trumps are gone before we know it, we will be in bad shape indeed. Hence, we stop leading trumps to lead a low diamond to the ace and the six back to the king. East ruffs. But this does not disturb us because, with the bad break of diamonds we had one loser anyway. East returns his last spade and, after winning, let us take stock.

We have established that East originally held four spades and one diamond. If he held four clubs he could hold only four hearts, and this would place West with seven hearts. Surely with a seven card heart suit West would have over-called one diamond. If East had either two or three clubs the club suit must break. We decide that East could not have had a singleton in clubs, because he then would have had to hold seven hearts, and he, also, would have overcalled with such length. Thus we arrive at the virtual certainty that the club suit will break 3-2. This is valuable working knowledge. All we need do now is cash the club king and lead a third round, not caring which defender takes the lead. If East must win, he can return only a heart, which will permit us to ruff in our hand while discarding a diamond in the other. If West wins the third club he can return a diamond or a heart, but both are quite satisfactory to us. A diamond lead will come up to our Q-10; a heart lead will give us the aforesaid ruff and discard. Surely this sort of suit placing is simplicity itself.

Give Children Books They Like to Cultivate Reading

BY ANGELO PATRI
An eleven-year-old boy dislikes reading so much that he will not touch a book save those he is obliged to use for study. He does not read for pleasure. That means that he is missing one of the joys of life. There is no other pleasure quite so restful, so relieving, as that one gets in reading the book of his choice. And it is always so close at hand. One has to dress to go to the movies, and sit there, hat on lap, neighbors pressing right and left, in the darkened theatre, tied to the chair for a couple of hours, until the picture ends. One cannot choose the show or the picture. One takes what is offered. And pays, maybe to be bored, perhaps to be pleased, and then gets home and to bed.

But a book waits on the table, beside the chair and the lamp. One sits down, in the easy chair, in the peace of home, opens his book and steps out of this world into the chosen one, for as long as one wishes. Nothing easier. Good books are read and re-read. Other entertainments are enjoyed once. The book costs about the price of one good show and lasts a lifetime.

Reading for pleasure is something one can do night after night without weariness. Any free hour of the day can be used in reading to the advantage of the mind and spirit. If sorrow presses, if anxiety besets one, if idleness is enforced upon one, the book is waiting to bring joy and relief and healing. A child who does not learn to read for pleasure is surely going to miss a new world, his glimpse of heaven on earth.

Maybe his eyes are poor? I can think of no other reason for a distaste for a story. All of us, of any age, love stories. Maybe he only thinks he does not want to read. Perhaps, if someone who loved a story especially well read it to him, he would want to read one as good for himself. I would like to try that on him.

Then I would like to try him with "Inch High" stories. And O'Neill's books, especially "Tony of the Iron

Each Layer Of Skin Has Own Duty

BY ELSIE PIERCE
We'll keep it as free from technical terms as possible, but let's have a little discussion on the structure of the skin and its function. Then, perhaps, we will understand the reason for doing certain things to help Nature in her beautifying work.

Too many women treat their own skin without knowing its needs, and without knowing the reason for what they do. Perhaps this lesson will help you treat your skin more intelligently.

The Epidermis. First, the outer layer of skin. This is the epidermis and consists mostly of dead cells packed tightly and being shed constantly by Nature itself to make room for new layers of dead cells being pushed out from within. Thus constant renewal takes place. Excessive layers of epidermis are the outer layers of corns and callouses. There are no blood vessels in this thick dead layer as anyone who has tried to scrape a callous knows. The deep part of this layer contains the pigment which determines the darkness of the skin.

Next below the epidermis is the dermis which contains blood vessels, nerves, hair roots, the fat glands which lubricate the skin and help it supple, and the sweat glands.

Deeper still is a layer of fat cells, the total number varying in different people.

Their Functions. Each layer of skin has its own function. The epidermis is protective to all the deeper structures. The fat glands serve to lubricate the outer layer of dead cells. The sweat glands carry out waste from the body and are our most important means of cooling the body by their action of producing sweat, which takes heat from the body when it evaporates. The nerves of the skin are those of touch, pain, warmth and cold. They keep the body used of external conditions. The blood vessels carry food to the skin. The fat cells in the deepest layer constitute a storage layer of food. The stouter the woman the thicker the cushion of fat deposit. (Copyright, 1938)

Old Gardener Says:

BY E. J. FARRINGTON
Every year the butterfly bush, or buddleia, is becoming more popular. Probably this is because each year seems to bring at least one new and improved variety. In the North the tops of these shrubs die back to the ground in the winter, but come up again in the spring to produce spikes of flowers in varying shades of lavender in late summer. This year's new variety is named Charming and is nearer pink than any other buddleia. In fact, under artificial light the color is a pronounced pink. In the daylight, however, it is a distinct lavender. Last year's introduction was "Buddleia nartwegi," which has particularly heavy spikes of bright lavender flowers. Other varieties, which have been on the market two or more years and have proved their worth, are Fortune and Ile de France. All the buddleias are excellent for cutting. (Copyright, 1938)

Tumblers that have been used with milk should always be washed in cold water before they are washed in hot. When this is done the milk will not stick to the glass and they will not have a cloudy appearance.

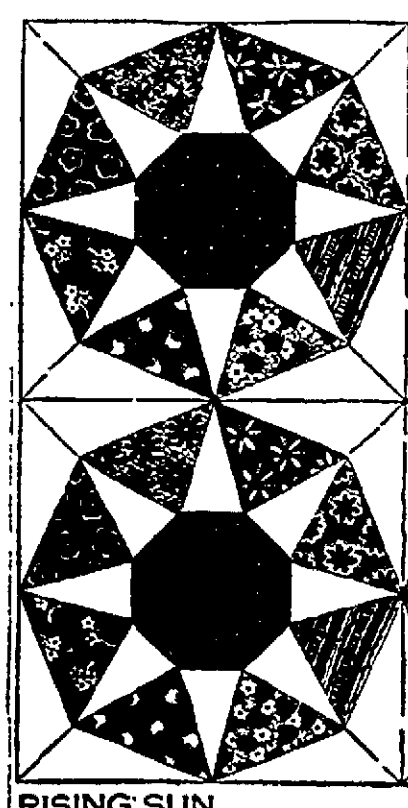

after which he headed the library line for some time.

Love of good reading must be cultivated, and the best way to begin is to give the children books they like, even if we do not care for them very much. After all, our reading diet ought to be different from the children's list. Don't try to put the classes down. Be content with a good story and leave the growth of the child's taste to experience and time. That is what formed yours.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and schools in connection with the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

The Asteroids

On the first day of January in the year 1801, a man named Piazzi saw something no one had noticed before. Having turned his telescope toward the star group known as Taurus, he caught sight of a small shining object.

Further study proved that the little object was not a star. It was the first "asteroid," or "planetoid," ever found.

MOON, diameter 2,160 miles

Three little planets compared in size to moon.

Piazzi was a Sicilian. The object he found was named in honor of Ceres, an ancient goddess who was supposed to watch over growing crops.

Since that time, hundreds of other asteroids have been found. More than 1,300 are well known today. Many others have been seen once or twice, but have been lost to sight afterward. All told, it is believed there are several thousand asteroids.

New ones are being found every month of the year.

Asteroids go around the sun, the same as the earth and the other planets do. Most of them have orbits near to circles, and most of them are between Mars and Jupiter.

In some cases, asteroids have paths which differ a great deal from those of the major planets. They speed away from the sun to points further distant than Jupiter. Then they come back, and get closer to the sun than Mars ever does.

Ceres has a diameter of about 485 miles, and is the largest asteroid known. Another asteroid has a diameter of 304 miles. Still another is 243 miles in diameter.

Most asteroids however, are much smaller. Many are less than 10 miles in diameter.

A famous asteroid or asteroid pair is known as Eros. In January, 1931, Eros was about 16,000,000 miles from the earth. Astronomers who studied it at that time said it appeared to be "double"—that is, they believed it was made up of two asteroids which kept the place in their journey around the sun. Each of the two parts appeared to have a diameter of about eight miles.

In-Law Relationship Can Be Beautiful and Helpful

BY DOROTHY DIX
Dear Miss Dix—I love my mother-in-law. She is a peach. It is fun being with her to shop, entertain, drive and even live with her, and I the way we have pulled it off. When she is at our house the place is her own. She cooks and puts to her heart's content and when she goes I put things to rights and all is well. I praise her cooking and show appreciation of her help. I make her feel that she is an honored guest. In return she opens her heart and home to me, confides in me, encourages me and treats me as a daughter. I only hope when I am a mother-in-law that I treat my daughter-in-law as she treats me.

A DAUGHTER-IN-LAW WHO LIKES IT.

Answer: Fine. Would that there were more young wives who followed your example, for when the mother-in-law and daughter-in-law don't get along together it is usually a fifty-fifty proposition in which the young woman is as much to blame as the older one.

Granted that there are too many possessive mothers who can't bear to give their sons up to any other woman, there are an equal number of girls who go into marriage with a chip on their shoulders for their husbands' mothers and are ready to fight at the drop of a hat. They have no sympathy or understanding for the older women. They flaunt their power over their husbands in their faces. They make no effort to get along with them. And they regard every suggestion that they make as a deadly insult.

Every mother knows that whether she keeps her son or loses him when he marries depends entirely upon his wife's attitude toward her. Men are like putty in their wives' hands and so if the wife is antagonistic to her husband's mother, her son begins to discover faults in his mother that he never perceived before. Besides, men don't like feminine fights and scenes, so if wife and mother quarrel and if wife is never willing to go to mother's or to have her come on a visit, it isn't long before Mother virtually passes out of the picture.

The young woman may think this a triumph, but it is a hollow victory and a costly one, because while her husband may be weak enough to give in to her for the sake of peace, he never fails to resent it in his secret heart. His love for his mother is at the very root of his being and a wife tries to destroy this at her peril. Nothing kills a man's love for his wife so quickly as for her to treat his mother badly, and nothing increases it more than for her to be good to his mother.

The mother-in-law and daughter-in-law relationship can be a very beautiful and helpful one to both and it is a pity that more women have not intelligence enough and good feeling enough to cultivate it.

Dear Miss Dix—We are two high school girls of 16. Our home life is unhappy and we long to get away from it. We are both good looking and have talent and our friends tell us we would be just wonderful on the screen. We have met a man who knows a big movie producer and can get us a job in Hollywood. He has offered to take us with him. Would you advise us to take this opportunity? We have only known this man a very short time.

DOT AND MARG.

Answer: I advise you to call the police instead of going off with this stranger to Hollywood. As the old melodramas used to say, "he bodes you no good." He is just trying to take advantage of your youth and unsophistication and lack of knowledge of the world. If you are foolish enough to listen to his persuasions you will spend the remainder of your life regretting it.

There isn't one chance in a million that he ever saw a big movie producer, or that he has the slightest influence to get you inside of a single studio gate in Hollywood. If he had any way of opening the door to you, he would go to your parents and talk the matter over with them. He wouldn't steal you away from them.

And, anyway, girls, try to use a few lobes of your brains, if you have any. Don't you know that virtually every 16-year-old girl in the United States dreams about being a cinema star and that thousands upon thousands of them, better equipped than you are, trek to Hollywood every year and are turned away from the studio gates without ever having got a chance to show themselves or what they can do? Hollywood is a city of blighted hopes. If you have a good home where you have three square meals a day, stay in it, even if you do think that your parents try to keep too tight a rein on you. 30. In sending Commencement announcements, how should the outside envelope be addressed to a husband and wife? The inside envelope? How should each be addressed to husband and wife and four children?

Answer: There is usually only one envelope. In your example this would be addressed "Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Smith" and on the line below "The Misses Smith" and then have a separate announcement would have to be addressed to "The Messrs. Smith."

31. In placing a greeting card or card of condolence in an envelope, which side faces the address? Why?

Answer: It is better to have the face side of the card toward the flap because the post office stamp on the mailing side sometimes leaves its impression on the card.

32. What are done with muddlers? Answer: This is a popular name for an implement used for pressing out and blending trimmings.

33. Is it permissible to chew gum in the movies? Answer: I suppose so, if you can chew silently. This means really silently so that no one can hear you.

34. When signing a Christmas card, does the husband's or wife's name come first? Answer: The person writing should add her name last because this is polite excepting when children's names follow. In this case the father's name comes first; for example: "John, Mary, Marie and Johnnie" (or Johnnie and Marie if Johnnie is the older).

35. Is it ever permissible for a lady to wear an evening dress if her escort is not dressed in evening clothes? Answer: Real evening clothes, no. In fact, this is one of the evidences of very bad taste in America. So many men want to go out in their ordinary business suits when the girls who go out with them want to put on pretty evening dresses. Naturally the result is a

Over 1,600 Attend Senior Class Play At Menasha School

Adeline Seidel, Donald Blaney Give Good Performances in Lead Roles

Menasha — A crowd of over 1,600 persons attended the play "Mignonette" presented by the senior class of Menasha high school Monday night in the new auditorium under the direction of John Novakowski. Approval of the presentation was unanimous by the spectators.

Doris Nemitz as Mammy Lou, the colored servant, handled another difficult role which called for age transition.

Leslie Westberg performed convincingly in the role of the juvenile lead, Justin Halliday. He also doubled as Paul Deardon. Another of the characterizations which was well done was by Vernon Ponto as David Frank.

Provide Humor

Much of the humor of the play was present in the lines spoken by three of the minor players. They were Marilyn Fahrback as Annabelle Higgins; Ruth Walke as Hanna Spilvers and Betty Harold as Esmeralda Brown.

Priest Tells Why St. Mary Is Honored

"THE BEAUTY and the glories of Mary's character have been the inspiration throughout the ages of many of the world's greatest masterpieces in art and sculpture," the Rev. Father Gerard, O. M. Cap., said as he discussed the widespread honor and devotion to the Mother of God in a lecture last night at St. Joseph's hall.

Explaining that Catholics do not worship Mary but honor her, since adoration belongs to God alone, Father Gerard said that the grounds for honoring the Mother of God are threefold: her divine maternity, her perpetual virginity and her immaculate conception. However, he said, in addition to this threefold evidence, another and more compelling reason for honoring and loving Mary is that Jesus Christ honored and loved her. The speaker pointed out that of the 33 years Christ spent on earth, all but three years were spent in the closest and most intimate association with Mary, and that He obeyed her commands and loved her tenderly.

Shows in Literature
Father Gerard went on to say that not only in painting and sculpture but also in literature Mary's inspiration has been felt, quoting from Wordsworth and Kipling, to show how they paid tribute to her.

He also quoted from the historian, William H. Lecky, not a member of the Christian faith, who paid the following tribute concerning the influence of the ideal of the Blessed Virgin upon western civilization: "The world is governed by its ideals, and seldom or never has there been one which has exercised a more salutary influence than the medieval conception of the Virgin. For the first time woman was elevated to her rightful position, and the sanctity of weakness was recognized, as well as the sanctity of sorrow. No longer associated only with ideas of degradation and of sensuality, woman rose in the person of the Virgin Mother, into a new sphere, and became the object of a reverential homage of which antiquity had no conception. . . . A new type of character was called into being; a new kind of admiration was fostered. Into a harsh and ignorant and benighted age this ideal type infused a conception of gentleness and purity, unknown to the proudest civilizations of the past. In the pages of living literature, which many a monkish writer has left in honor of his celestial patron; in the millions who in many lands and in many ages have sought to mould their characters into her image; in those holy maidens who, for the love of Mary, have separated themselves from all the glories and pleasures of the world, to seek in fastings and vigils and humble charity to render themselves worthy of her benediction; in the new sense of honor, in the chivalrous respect, in the softening of manners, in the refinement of tastes displayed in all the walks of society; in these and in many other ways we detect its influence."

Father Gerard will give the last of his series of lectures next Monday night.

2-Week Solemnity Period Begins in Churches of City

Catholic Statues to Remain Shrouded in Purple Until Easter

Appleton churches last Sunday entered upon a two weeks' period of solemnity preceding the celebration of Easter. In Catholic churches, the various statues and crucifixes were shrouded in purple on Passion Sunday and will remain thus until Easter Saturday as a symbol of mourning and penitence.

Except for routine meetings of church organizations, the only special events scheduled for the next week are Lenten services. At Mt. Olive Lutheran church the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor, will preach at the Lenten service at 7:30 Wednesday night on "Judas' Sin and Terrible End" while at Zion Lutheran churches there will be English Lenten services at 7:30 Wednesday night and German services Thursday night. Today the Gospel temple is observing a day of prayer which began at 10 o'clock this morning and will continue all day, closing with a prayer service tonight. On Wednesday night, the choir of the local temple will sing at a revival service at the Gospel tabernacle in Kaukauna. Mrs. John S. Lincoln was special speaker at the services at the local temple last Sunday.

"The Cross—The Symbol of Judgment" is the subject of the Lenten sermon to be given by the Rev. D. E. Boserman, pastor of Trinity English Lutheran church, at 7:30 Wednesday night at his church. Last Sunday morning he preached on "The Christian's Conflict with Sin." Mid-week services will be held at First Baptist church from 8 to 9 o'clock Thursday night with Irving Kimball in charge. Circle Orash is having a supper and hobby party this evening. Last Sunday morning the Rev. R. H. Spangler, pastor, spoke on "The Worst Thing That Happened to Jesus."

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will have Lenten services at 7:30 Wednesday night at the church. The Rev. William Wichman, Kimberly, will be the speaker at Lenten services at 7:30 Thursday evening at St. Matthew Lutheran church, his subject to be "Judas and Peter." The Rev. Philip Froelich, pastor of the local church, will preach at Dale on Thursday. Last Sunday he spoke at his own church on "The Tongue."

Guest Preacher
The Rev. Edmund Reim, Neenah, will be guest speaker Wednesday and Thursday evenings at St. Paul Lutheran church, and the Rev. F. M. Brandt, pastor of St. Paul church, will speak Wednesday night at Mt. Calvary church, Kimberly. Trustees will meet Friday night at St. Paul church, and the senior choir will rehearse Tuesday and Thursday nights. Last Sunday the Rev. T. J. "Unreality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist. The following is a passage from the Bible which was read: "Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help. His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish. Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God: And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father which is in heaven. Neither be ye called masters; for one is your Master, even Christ. But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant. And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted."

Vines Walloped In Tennis Match

Drops Two Straight Sets To Fred Perry of England

SCORES 6-0, 6-3

Pairs With Walter Senior To Cop Doubles Contest

BY GORDON MCINTYRE
ELLSWORTH Vines, former member of the American Davis cup team and former No. 1 amateur in the country, may be carrying on a battle for professional honors with Fred Perry, former English Davis cupper and at one time singles champion of seven countries, but you'd have a hard job convincing the 2,100 or more persons who saw the men stage a match last night at Alexander gymnasium.

For Perry took things easy and let Vines defeat himself 6-0 and 6-3 by faulting on services and slamming the ball into the net generally. Vines just couldn't get the ball over and at one time he faulted something like six straight times.

The American player last night appeared to have only his terrific serve in his bag of tricks and when it wasn't working he was lost. However, when it did work he practically drove the ball past his opponent often times so fast it was impossible to follow.

Too Much Tennis

The crowd didn't fill all the seats in the huge Viking gymnasium but it was the largest crowd ever to watch a tennis match of any kind in this section of the state. Despite Vines' rather miserable showing it was well entertained and saw even more tennis than it wanted. Many people left after the Vines-Perry match while others drifted out during the doubles exhibition as the seats got too hard.

The evening's program opened with Walter Senior, San Francisco, and last summer winner of the Wisconsin state open tennis title, playing Berkley Bell, former Davis cupper, and now of New York. Senior, a tall, rangy man as devoid of color as a rock, copped the long drawn out duel, 9 to 7. They staged a battle during the first several games of their match but as the evening wore along it appeared Bell decided play had gone far enough and eased up while Senior copped.

Their scores:
Senior 0122 234 445 696 789
Bell 1112 333 445 567 777
Vines Looks Bad
Vines and Perry then took the court but as Perry played more of less defensive tennis and exerted himself little, Vines pounded the ball into the net time after time or out of court and the first set was dropped by a 6-0 score that had the crowd commenting rather adversely about Mr. Vines' ability and claims.

In the second match Vines continued to be highly erratic and had been able to hear some of the remarks probably would have picked up.

Each Big 10 Cage Team Will Play All Others

Chicago—(AP)—Each school in the Western conference will play all others in basketball, each season under a schedule plan adopted last night by Big Ten coaches. Heretofore, each team clashed with six foes in two games on a home-and-home basis. Henceforth, each will schedule three schools for home-and-home games and the others for singles tilts. For the latter the sites would be reversed each year. The plan was expected to equalize competition in that each team would meet the highly rated squads instead of escaping the "tough ones" by the luck of a round robin schedule.

Names of Rookies A Painful Study For Proof-Readers

Washington—(AP)—Baseball may be the great American game to lots of folks, but to lots of proof-readers it's no fun at all.

This year's rookie crop, a painful study of training camp rosters showed today, ranks with the best in the alphabetically big leagues.

Among the super-tongue-twisters are:

Joseph Victor Lawrence Kruskas—Washington Senators.

Julius Cisar—Who's going to provide some arguments—Brooklyn Dodgers.

Leslie William Tietje—Back in the league again after giving the spotters a year's rest—St. Louis Browns.

Outfielder Leo William Nonne-kamp—How many N's?—Boston Red Sox.

Pitcher William Ehrensberger—Spelled with four E's—Phillies.

Robert E. Uhle—Ah, another Uhle in baseball—Chicago White Sox.

Cannonball Heintzelman—El or le?—the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Lou Vezilich—Another one for the St. Louis printers—playing for the Cardinals.

Proofreaders can always be proud of Pete Appleton, however. Before he came to the Senators he was Peter Jablanowski.

Seven Schools In Wis. Rapids Track Carnival

Appleton Among Schools Entered in Indoor Meet Friday

WISCONSIN RAPIDS—Seven large state high schools will be represented in an indoor invitational track and field meet to be held here in the spacious Lincoln fieldhouse Friday, April 8.

Wauwatosa, Green Bay East, Green Bay West, Appleton, La Crosse Central, Shorewood, and Wisconsin Rapids will be out after the honors carried away by the Green Bay East thinned athletes last year. Favored to finish on top this year is the Green Bay West team, heavy winner in a dual meet with Madison West last week.

Under the direction of Coach J. A. Torresani, Lincoln High school track mentor, the meet is scheduled to start at 4 p. m. and finish at 7:30 p. m. Carl Klandrud, basketball coach, and A. A. Ritchey, principal, will act as starter and referee, respectively.

Coach Torresani, with only four lettermen to form the nucleus of his 1938 squad, has been preparing his boys for the meet since the call for candidates on March 14. Outstanding and favored to place in their respective events are Bob Berard, high hurdler, Joe Goodrich, half miler, and Osmond Peterson, quarter mile and dash star.

Wisconsin Rapids' squad has been weakened with the loss by graduation of Ken Miller, versatile athlete, who last year tied the fieldhouse record set in 1934 in the 40-yard dash at 4.5. Other fieldhouse records set last season are 11 feet, 74 inches by Rickaby of East Green Bay in the pole vault, a distance of 47 feet, 3 inches in the shotput by Jones of Appleton, 21 feet, 33 inches by Fredrickson of Green Bay East in the broad jump, and a time of 3:51 in the mile relay by Swamp, Colvin, Bowers and Sellers of Appleton.

Only Three Counties Have Bull Head Fishing

Conservation Warden Emil Kramer, Appleton, has called attention to the fact that a reprint of a story in a Milwaukee newspaper carried on this page yesterday was so far wrong that only the fact bull heads will be caught this season is correct.

An order from the Conservation commission published March 24, 1938, states that the bull head season opened only in Dane, Jefferson and Rock counties on April 1, with a 30 per day bag limit and no size limit. In all other counties the season opens on May 15 with a 30 per day bag limit and a 6-inch minimum size.

State League Meets April 7

Schedule Will Be Drawn And Umpires Selected

GREEN BAY—Northern State league moguls will meet here Thursday night at the Northland hotel to adopt the schedule, select the official ball, revamp the constitution to conform with the eight club circuit and pass on the applicants for the umpiring staff.

Bernard I. Neumann, Two Rivers, who was elected president to succeed the late Arthur Schuetz, Manitowoc, will handle the conference slated to get under way promptly at 7:30 p. m. in the Italian room of the popular Green Bay hostelry.

The schedule committee composed of Dud Courchane, Kimberly; Frank Polaske, New London and Ziggy Zigmund, Manitowoc, working in conjunction with President Neumann have drawn up several proposed outlines of playing dates which will be submitted to the managers for their approval.

The Northern State will probably open Sunday, May 8 and continue until Labor day. Each club will play around the circuit twice in a 28-game outline. There will be a split season, 14 games in each half and the winners will cross bats in a championship series to decide possession of the 1938 bunting.

Busy Player Market

As the opening games draw near the baseball executives in all of the Northern league cities are hustling around for players. So far as possible the circuit will operate on a home-player basis with only three outsiders allowed each club. However, this rule is stretched when the occasion demands it, in order to provide equal competition all around the circuit.

Willie Raab, veteran infielder, will have charge of the Two Rivers club this season. The Cool City team will be backed by the V.F.W. Tommy Tomlin and Lefty Petek, two former Green Bay pitchers, are included in the Clintonville eligibility list. Al Borths, who did a lot of basketball officiating this past winter, will handle the center garden.

Porky Penszader and several other Oshkoshians will probably be seen in the New London battle front. Seymour has a half dozen members of its 1937 team under contract and will add some new faces. Several of the stars of last year's Little Chute team are booked to play at Kimberly this year under Whittier Behrend. Green Bay, 1937 champions, will cavort in new green and white uniforms. John Coppes continues as the baseball czar at Kaukauna.

LITTLE CHUTE BOXER

Hexey Lamers, above, a product of Little Chute and son of Marty Lamers, long a figure in Valley baseball circles, will show against Clifford Lutz, Appleton, in one of the amateur bouts Thursday night at Armory G. The two boys fought on the first card with Lutz getting a shade decision. Since then each has won his share of goes and Lamers would like to erase his one defeat. (Post-Crescent Photo.)

Softball Loop Has Six Clubs

But American League Will Seek Two More Before Making Plans

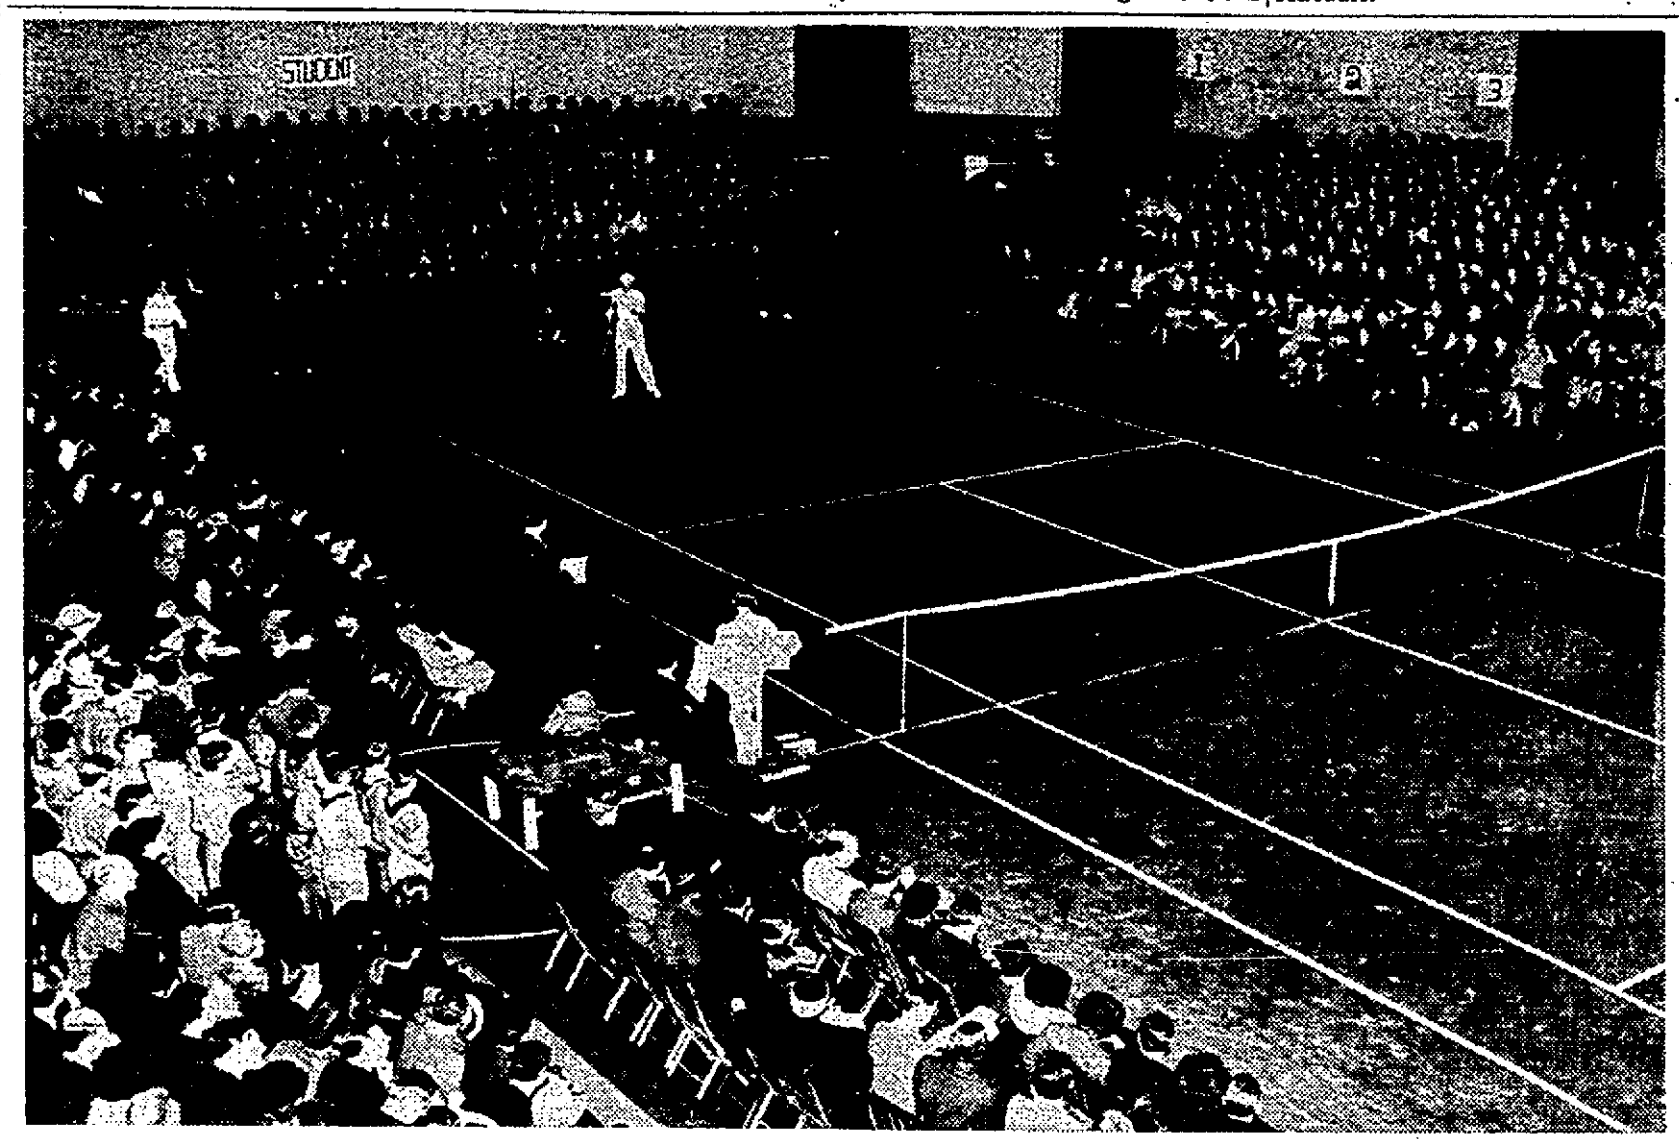

Six teams are "set" to go in the American Softball league, it was reported at a meeting last night at the Y.M.C.A. but the loop will seek eight clubs before making final plans.

Teams which indicated they were ready were Atlas Mill, Coated Paper, Riverside, Local 931, Woolen Mills and the Telephones-Wires. The latter combination is ready to form at least one team and even soon go alone and if the league finally gives them permission the Wires will join with some other team to help organize the two clubs being sought.

Indications are that if the league wishes to open up and accept any softball combination it can have as many teams as it wants. However, the inclination is to remain as much an industrial league as possible.

Rox River has not indicated its chance of having a team because several players have been laid off and can't qualify under league rules.

A 30 per day bag limit and no size limit. In all other counties the season opens on May 15 with a 30 per day bag limit and a 6-inch minimum size.

Al Schacht Fails to Spot Rookie Who Pitches Like Johnson Used to

BY GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Al Schacht, the baseball clown, is back from his annual tour of the training camps, and he still hasn't spotted that rookie pitcher who can throw a ball like Walter Johnson used to.

Every spring when Al makes the rounds of the camps, working out and lining up engagements for the season, he keeps watching the young pitchers, searching for that easy, flowing motion that made Johnson his idol. Life about decided now that he'll never find it.

Al, who was with the big Swedes on the Washington club for many a year, clowns practically all the time except when he gets around to the subject of Johnson. Then he gets serious and sentimental all at once.

"Why do people keep talking about who was the greatest pitcher when anybody with any sense knows there was never one even close to Walter?" he asks. "Ask any man who ever tried to hit that fast ball of his. They'll tell you."

Three Harder When Looking "When I look at some of these guys they call fast-ball pitchers these days it hands me a laugh. Why, Johnson threw a ball harder when he was loafing along behind a one-run lead than anybody else ever has, and that includes Lefty Grove at his best."

"None of which is news, precisely. Everybody has heard that Johnson could blaze them across so fast that on dull, cloudy days the catchers didn't like to get within bal-length of the plate. But as time passes the phenomenal speed of Johnson becomes only a legend to a new generation, so it is a little exciting to hear Schacht bring it back to life."

"Some days when Walter really felt like throwing that onion it was plain murder for the opposing team. They would just stand back and wave their bats until every body, even Walter, was laughing. On days Johnson was due to pitch for us you could count on two or three members of the other team reporting sick. They didn't like to face him and you couldn't blame 'em."

Umpire Calls Game
"Funniest thing that ever happened was one day when our regular catcher got a split finger about the middle of a game and we put in a young fellow named Rip Williams to catch Johnson. Wait was pretty fast that day, and Billy Evans was calling strikes behind the plate."

"The first one went over Williams' shoulder and hit Evans an awful thump on his protector. An umpire in those days wasn't smug, even Walter, was laughing more up like he is now. The second pitch also went right past Williams and cracked Evans square on the shin. So help me, Billy grabbed his shin and turned around and bawled out that the game was called on account of darkness. I'll swear he made it stick, too, and the sun wasn't even down."

Ray Chapman, the Cleveland infielder who later was killed by a fast ball thrown by Carl Mays, figured in another of Schacht's stories about Johnson.

"Ray liked to crowd the plate. Wait's first pitch tipped the visor of his cap and the second ruffled his shirt. He turned around and walked right back to the dugout, and the umpire couldn't make him take his third strike. That was about the easiest strikeout Wait ever got."

Supposing Johnson in his prime were pitching for the present day Yankees, how would he do?

"He would average about 30 wins

St. John Gridders Drilling for Games

Intra-Squad Battle Will Feature Spring Football Practice

Little Chute—Nearly 50 St. John High school students have packed in a week of spring football practice and are drilling hard for a game between the seniors and the "varsity." Underclassmen are struggling for berths on the first squad and indications point to a light but fast squad for next fall.

St. John will lose the following 11 lettermen: P. Van Langfelt, center; E. Van Handel, guard; Boney Versteegen, end; Jerome and Les Heil, back and end; R. Koehn, quarterback; C. Van Handel, guard; B. Siebers, end; D. DeBruin, tackle; B. Lenz, tackle; S. Van Dyke, end. Six lettermen returning are E. Hammen, Duce Weyenberg, Red Boots, Schumacher and Smoky Van Boxtel.

Fundamentals were reviewed and limbering up exercises conducted during the first week. Various drills were shifted around by the Rev. James Geyer, head coach.

The first string will probably be selected from the following list: Duce Weyenberg, W. McCabe, S. Versteegen, ends: E. Hammen, R. Boots, G. Lamers, G. Baumgard, R. Cornelius, J. Koehn, B. Hartjes, C. Hurst, P. Derks, backs: S. Van Boxtel, E. Simpson, M. Schumaker, Al Huismann, tackles: G. DeBruin, E. Jansen, H. Van Langfelt, M. Versteegen, guards; K. Evers, F. Hornstein, centers. Promising freshmen include H. Vanden Heuvel, W. Konz, DeKoeh and Peeters.

Chicago Teams Play Minor Part at ABC

Chicago—(AP)—Chicago, the nation's major bowling center, has played a very minor part so far in the American Bowling Congress. The majority of 1938 Chicago entries have bowled, but none now are among the first ten in the standings.

Joe Fliger, veteran member of the minor leagues who ranks third in the singles with 717 and fourth in the all-events with 1940 is Chicago's only representative among the leaders.

Tonight two of the highly-touted Chicago fives will attempt to remedy the situation. The Birk Brothers Brewing Company team, champions in 1917, hope to prove champions can come back, even if it takes 21 years to do it.

The other five expected to have something to say about the championship is the Prager Beer team. From now on Chicago's headlines will be in action almost every week night.

The pins had glue on them last night. The 80 teams in action had a hard time of it. Only the Conklin Bakery team of Decatur threatened the leaders and after a 1,014 start, they slipped and finished with a 2,867 series. The Thomas Steel Company team of Warren, Ohio, was high for the night with 2903 but an 846 game killed them at the start.

and two losses a season," figured Al. "He couldn't possibly do worse than that."

LeRoy Edwards Caged 1,019 Points During 73 Contests

OSHKOSH—(AP)—For a man who admits he's lazy, LeRoy Edwards manages to play a lot of basketball. The 6 foot, 4 inch center of the Oshkosh All-Stars, champions of the Western division of the National Professional Basketball league, has just completed a 73-game chore in which he scored 1,019 points.

Edwards played only one less game than did his team, and on his off day appeared with the others who, like himself formerly played with the University of Kentucky quintet, in a charity game at Louisville.

Edwards won all-American rating at Kentucky for the 1934-35 season. In that year he totaled 344 points to average 17 per game. While playing with Kentucky at Madison Square Garden in New York he made 12 baskets in 12 shots.

Holds League Record
During Oshkosh's 13 games in the National Pro league this season, Edwards made 209 points for an average of 16 per game. He holds the record for the league, having scored 30 points in one game. His personal all-time record was made late this season, 16 field goals and seven free throws for 39 points.

Oddly enough during Oshkosh's last scheduled did Edwards need a relief. He likes basketball and is a tireless player. There are times when he loafs, and he isn't too strong on the defense, but his season average of 13.9 points per game indicates it was his opponent and not Edwards who was on the defensive most of the time.

Most of Edwards' goals were made under the basket, where his height made him a standout among the "little men" fighting below him for possession of the ball. Edwards was born at Crawfordsville, Ind., April 11, 1914, and played prep school basketball at Tech High of Indianapolis. He joined the Oshkosh pro team in February, 1936. He answers to nicknames of "Lefty", "Big Ed" and "Lit Abner."

St. John Athletes to Be Feted at Banquet

Little Chute—The annual banquet for St. John basketball, boxing and football lettermen will be held Sunday, April 24, with Mickey McCormick, St. Norbert coach, serving as the principal speaker. Mazo, Green Bay magician, is included on the entertainment program. About 300 seats will be reserved for the event and the public will be able to secure them at business establishments.

Booster Teams Hold Spotlight At Pin Tourney

O. Lemmers, Kimberly, Rolls 607 in 175 Regular Singles

NEENAH-MENASHA—While standings set over the weekend in the regular divisions of the thirty-sixth annual state bowling tournament being held here remained undisturbed Monday night, the Laemmerich Funeral home five, Menasha, was elbowed out of the lead in the booster division by two Oshkosh teams, the Lem Legion Specials which rolled a total of 2,602 and the American Legion Post No. 70 house committee five which bowled a 2,394. The Laemmerich score was 2,386.

Five Neenah American Legion booster teams and five Oshkosh American Legion booster teams rolled in the 8 o'clock shift, while eight Milwaukee quintets, one from Delafield and one from Fox Lake rolled in the regular divisions last night. Bowlers from Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly and Brill competed in the singles and doubles at the Hendy alleys.

C. Lemmers, Kimberly, posted the only fair score of the evening. He netted a 607 in the 175 regular on lines of 189, 205 and 213. He took ninth place in that division. P. Turner, Brill, drilled a 574 and J. Becker, Menasha, recorded a 567 in the same division.

14,300 Fans See Badger Boxers Wallop Cougars, Claim National Honors

BY GEORGE TAGATZ
ADISON—(AP)—Tribute to their vanquished opponents, the rugged, hard-hitting Cougars of Washington State, added prestige today to claims of the University of Wisconsin boxing team to recognition as national collegiate champions.

The Badgers completed an undefeated season last night with a decisive 51 to 24 victory over the Pacific coast intercollegiate champions and winners of the national collegiate tournament of 1937. They drew a tremendous ovation from 14,300 spectators, the largest crowd ever attracted to an indoor sports event at the university.

"They're the tops," said the Washington State coach, Ike Deeter, as he congratulated smiling Johnny Walsh, the Wisconsin mentor.

Favor Toronto to Win Stanley Cup
Maple Leafs Have Enjoyed Full Week of Rest Since Semifinals

Toronto—(AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs, led by snipers Gordon Drillon and Sylvanus Apps, skate onto their home rink tonight favored to defeat the Chicago Black Hawks in the best-of-five final for the Stanley cup and professional hockey's world championship.

Everything favors the Leafs except the events which have led up to this climatic play-off series. Most important advantage is that they have enjoyed a full week's rest since beating Boston three straight for the national hockey league title, whereas Chicago goes into action right from the previous three-game series, each of which included one over-time game.

The Toronto attack, during the regular season, was the strongest in the league, Chicago's the weakest. But Bill Stewart's Chicagoans can draw some satisfaction from the fact that the under-dog has emerged as top-dog in each play-off scrap. Toronto itself was a short-endured against Boston, the favored Rangers lost to the Americans, and the favored Canadians to Chicago, and the favored Americans, who hadn't dropped a game all winter to the Hawks, were beaten by them in the semifinals.

Chicago White Sox Blast Out 11 to 9 Victory Over Cubs

LAKELAND, FLA.—(AP)—With Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe hurling the first five innings, the Detroit Tigers defeated Buffalo of the International league, 5 to 3, in an exhibition baseball game here yesterday.

Rowe, who is attempting a come back after having been out of action most of last season with an injured pitching arm, allowed seven hits, walked two and yielded one run.

Outfielder Chester Laabs hit a single, double and home run and drove in four Tiger scores. Buffalo (1) 001 000 011-3 11 0

Atlanta, Ga.—(AP)—The long hold-out of Wallace Moses Jr., star outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, ended yesterday with Connie Mack's announcement that he had agreed to terms and would arrive Wednesday from Houston, Tex. Mack did not announce the salary Moses would receive, but it was reported to be $11,000.

WALLOP GIANTS
Austin, Tex.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians belted out 13 hits and an 11 to 7 victory over the New York Giants yesterday to cut New York's margin in their spring exhibition series to 4-3.

Lon Lyle, who made four blows started the trouble by belting Cliff Melton's first pitch over the left center fence for a home run. The Indians scored four runs in the next frame to take a lead they never lost. The Giants hit Denny Galehouse after Johnny Allen had held them to six hits and three runs in five innings, but they couldn't keep pace with the Indians' run-makng.

GIVES FOUR HITS
Bradenton, Fla.—(AP)—Lou Fette, the Boston Bees' 31-year-old "sophomore" who won 20 games last season, turned in an impressive exhibition yesterday as he held the Brooklyn Dodgers to four hits in nine innings and beat them, 5 to 1. Two of the hits and a walk produced the lone Dodger run in the fourth.

Fette, who struck out five and walked four, got excellent batting support from his mates. They made their first four runs off George Jeffcoat, two coming home on Vince Di Maggio's triple in the fourth and picked up the other off Buck Marrow, who worked the last four innings.

Cubs Bolster Pitching Staff With Jack Russell

Bisbee, Ariz.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs today acquired the veteran Jack Russell in an effort to bolster the pitching staff. Russell, a right-hander who has served with Boston, Washington and Detroit of the American league, was obtained as a free agent. Manager Charley Grimm said he would report to the club in San Antonio Thursday.

Picard Edges Out Guldahl to Pocket $1,500 at Augusta

AGUSTA, GA.—(AP)—No one was more certain that Henry Picard would win the all-star Augusta national golf show than the "Hershey hurricane" himself. Tall Henry isn't the bragging type, but he is the sort of golfer who will tell you when he feels that they're going to hang up his number in a tournament.

The Pennsylvania pro, 40 years old and a native of Plymouth, Mass., practiced only once before the start of the golfing feature of the winter and the puts were rolling for him. They continued to roll and that's the story of the victory that won him $1,500.

And, for Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, the national open champion who was edged out of the big prize here a year ago, it was the failure of puts to roll that cost him a possible tie and play-off for the championship.

Even Through 69 Holes
Looking back over the scoring records, one finds that Picard and Guldahl were exactly even through 69 holes. But the hole, Guldahl three-putted, where Picard got his par. Again at the 72nd, the big Chicago champion three-putted and Picard came along to get his par.

There is where the winner grabbed two strokes that saved him from deadlocking with Guldahl and Lighthouse Harry Cooper of Chicago, who knocked off a sub-71 in the final round to finish in a tie for second place with Guldahl.

All in all, it was a great tournament. Picard was a popular winner. Bobby Jones, who helped put the big show on the winter trail for his lone competitive appearance since his retirement in 1930, came through better than expected. Attendance records were broken.

Assumes Lead
Cooper came back close with a third round 71, which dropped back with a 77. It was at this stage that Picard assumed the lead with rounds of 71-72-72, never to be headed. Picard got a 70 on his final round. Gene Sarazen, the Connecticut farmer, put on a great exhibition of 70-68 on the second and third rounds and then dropped far back with a finishing 79.

Cooper put together rounds of 70-72-75 for a 207 total and a tie for 16th place, his best effort since a 13th place finish in 1934. Sam Snead, the stinging rookie from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., went the way of all previous favorites. He was near the end of the list.

Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., rallied gamely to finish fourth with 228, which Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., who staged a garrison finish a year ago to beat Guldahl, came in fifth with 290. Johnny Revolta was out of the money with 298.

CARDS BEAT NATS
St. Petersburg, Fla.—(AP)—The Cardinals peppered Jimmy De Shong for five innings yesterday and defeated the Washington Senators, 11 to 8, in an exhibition game that produced 19 runs 29 hits and seven errors.

Pete Appleton pitched the remainder of the game, and allowed two runs. Max Baer was treated roughly during the six innings he was on the mound for the Cards, the Senators getting nine hits and three runs off him.

Ossie Bluege, Senator second sacker, reached first safely in all of his four trips to the plate, singling three times and walking once.

San Antonio, Tex.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns fought an uphill battle and finally disposed of the Toledo Mud Hens, 4 to 3, in the fifth of their exhibition series here yesterday. The victory straightened their winning streak to 15 straight games.

The American association team assumed an early 3 to 0 lead off Southpaw Rookie Howard Mills. But the Browns worked it into a tie in the eighth with a homer by Red Kress. Then Harold Cliff, singled in the ninth to drive George McQuinn in with the winning run.

ed up his racket and gone home. Certainly if the Chicago scribes learn the score of last night's match Vines, Perry and Promoter Harris wouldn't get a favorable reception when they play there later this week. The scribes haven't forgotten their last appearance in Chicago.

Scores of the matches:

Vines	000 000
Perry	123 456

Vines 001 223 333
Perry 122 234 456

The doubles match, with Perry and Bell playing Senior and Vines, saw the latter two win but Bell take most of the honors because of his general play. He indicated clearly why he rated as one of the best doubles players ever to show on an American Davis cup team.

Senior in Earnest
Vines and Senior won the first match, 6-4, and Perry and Bell the second, 6-3. With the clock nearing 11 most of the folks figured the last match would be short and snappy but the netters battled on until Vines and Senior finally won, 7-5. At one stage Senior indicated there wasn't anything funny about the match by running down one of the line judges in his effort to make a shot and narrowly missed injury on the sharp edge of a chair.

The scores:

Perry-Bell	112 341 355 366 66
Vines-Senior	011 112 234 556 78

Perry-Bell 012 233 344 555
Vines-Senior 011 233 445 557

Vines-Senior 012 233 344 555
Vines-Senior 111 233 445 567

The crowd was generous with its applause despite the remarks about Vines' game. His service drew all kinds of comment when it was good, while Perry's general play was the highlight.

Disagree With Umpires
Differences of opinion on baseline, and out of court shots were numerous and in some instances the performers gave away points after feeling an opponent has been deprived of a point. The fans also got in an opportunity or three to disagree with the judges and in the final game of the second doubles match Perry and Bell yelled loudly when the final shot was called out of court.

Perry, especially, took time off to entertain the fans. On one occasion a girl in the back court was clipped with a bounding ball and the gallant Englishman stopped to ascertain whether she might be hurt and then had water sent to her.

All of which brought numerous remarks from other ladies about how unfortunate, "darned" unfortunate, they were not to be sitting on the sidelines and getting hit with a ball. On another occasion one of Vines' services hit a youngster on the chest and he reacted as if he had been shot and thereafter remained behind the net.

But the Englishman could be irked, too. Once in the late stages of the doubles match a ball got away and college students set up a chant about keeping it. The rabble didn't please Perry a bit and he finally asked them to be quiet, adding he could yell just as loudly as they. There wasn't any noise thereafter.

National A. A. U. Championships Close Wednesday Night

Boston—(AP)—It took nine hours and slam-bang action in three rings to separate the chaff from the wheat in the national A. A. U. boxing championships and today, with the field reduced from 175 to 64, the tourney appeared in position to uphold its customary standards.

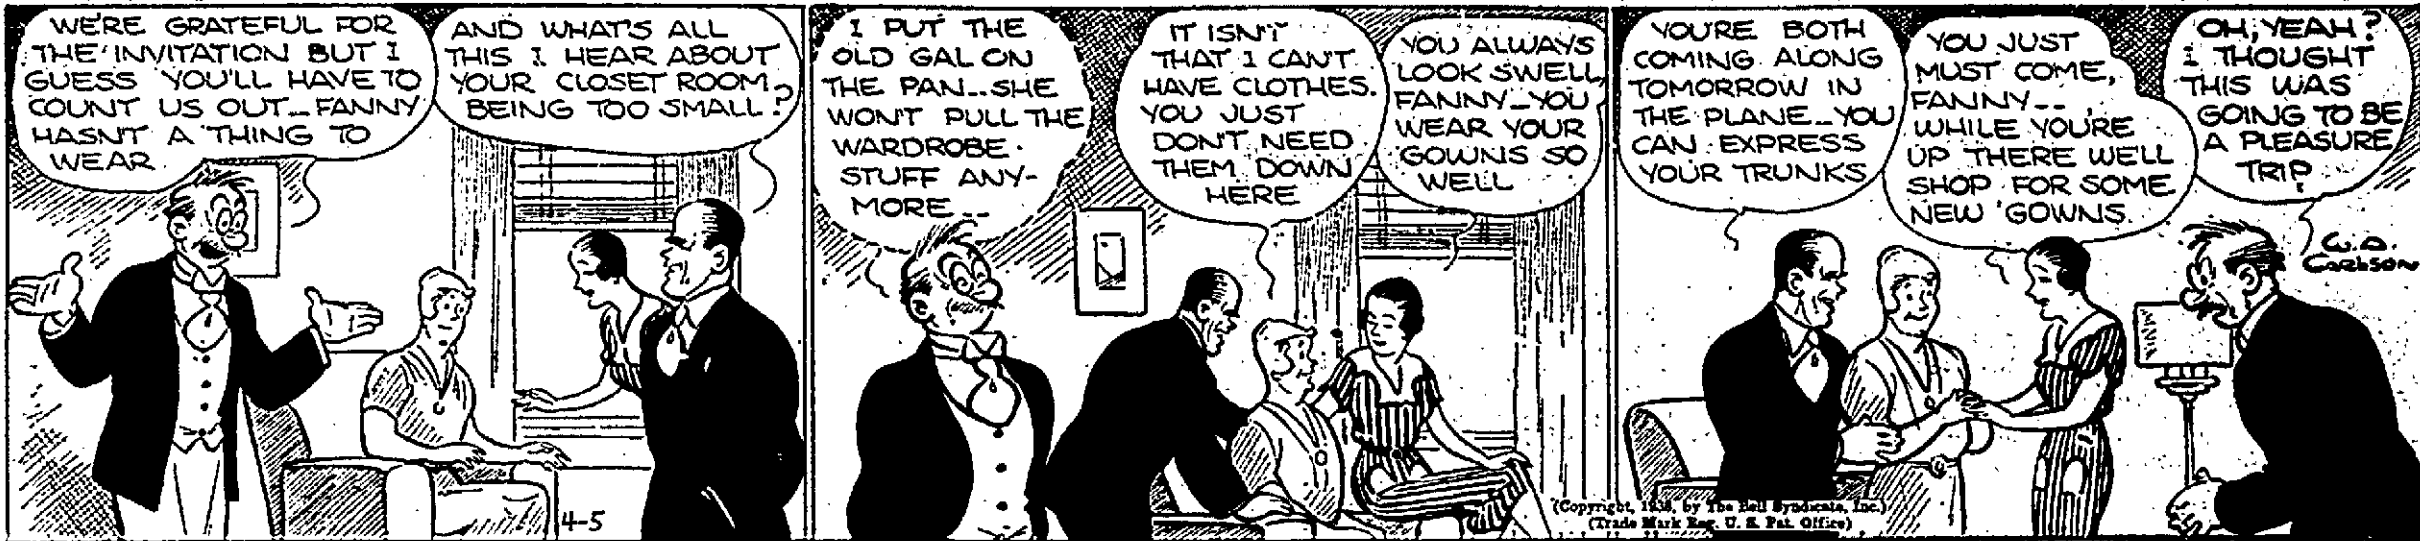

During the long opening session of a program that will not end until Wednesday night, when eight new champions will be crowned, exactly 111 competitors, drawn from 20 states, the District of Columbia and the Hawaiian Islands, were eliminated in the two rounds of trial bouts.

THE STORY SO FAR: The safe world of the Maryland Gooddoes has crashed. Their securities are worthless, and Judith Gooddoes is heartbroken because Gary Brent, the man she loves, has gone out west. Reuben Oliver, injured when thrown from his horse, is an unwanted guest. A self-made millionaire, Reuben offers Judith's grandmother a loan, and is cruelly snubbed. With hatred in his heart Reuben stumbles into the garden.

Chapter 13
A Bargain

Reuben did not see Judith until it was too late to retreat. In scarlet swim suit, she was seated upon the edge of the pool, slim brown feet in the water. She saw him first. Noticed his stormy face, and asked on a breathless note: "What has happened, Mr. Oliver?"

When he did not answer she rushed on to a fear that had ragged at her heart since his coming: "Has my brother been trying to borrow money from you?"

"On the contrary, your grandmother has refused a loan," In sheer relief Judith laughed: "One can always bet on Gran! A refusal to accept money shouldn't make you look so murderous."

"I've never been insulted before for offering to help over a tough spot."

"What," sharply, "did you do?"

"Committed the unpardonable sin."

"How?"

"Suggested to your grandmother that she sell the box."

"You," coldly, "should have known better."

"Why should I?" darkly angry.

"We love the box. It's part of our lives."

"It's part of your pride."

"Well?" defiantly.

"I left your grandmother trying to figure out how to hold on to both, without breaking the outdated, silly rules you all live by."

Judith's blue gaze swept him contemptuously. "You don't even begin to understand."

"I wish I didn't." He was trying to hate this girl as he was hating the haughty old woman in the library. "Your grandmother asked my advice. Before I gave it I offered to take up her notes."

She got slowly to her feet. "Don't you know that was only a crude way of offering money?"

"I didn't know any method of averting bankruptcy could be crude. Most people aren't so particular."

"I wouldn't be honest--on our side."

"It would on mine."

Judith dismissed his side with a wave of her hand. "Don't you know we're mortgaged to the eyebrows? The security Gran could give you wouldn't be worth the paper it was written on. Don't you know that?"

"Yes," doggedly, "I know."

Love Acknowledged

Slim, straight, supple as a dyad, she came quite close to him. "Why," impatiently, "did you make such a fool offer?"

He did not know how to dissemble. "I wanted to keep you safe."

"Me?"

Despite his efforts to nurse his anger his mouth softened to tenderness. "You."

Just to say it was like breaking down a dam and letting the water rush in, but instead of a turbulent stream, Love acknowledged, proved a sea--headly, salt, clean--washing over him, healing all scars, making him forget everything except her.

"You did this will? thing for me?" angrily. "Suppose--Gran is only human--suppose she had let you?"

"I wish she had. You see, I--" with a blending of pride and humility, "I'm getting another job through the Post-Crescent classified ads. Ever since I started here there's been a buzzing in my ear and spots before my eyes."

Issue 26 Suits to Track Candidates

Additions to New London Squad Expected Before End of Week

New London—Twenty-six track suits were issued to cinder aspirants at Washington High school yesterday afternoon as Coach D. N. Stacy issued the first call for track practice. More are expected to turn out by the end of the week.

Little material is available for this year's work this year, according to Coach Stacy. Back to the high jump and high hurdles is Douglas Hoier, a leader last year and outstanding prospect for laurels this year. Donald Stern will work on the low hurdles. Francis Meinhardt is the only trackster of last year returning in the broad jump. Leland Dobberstein is back in the weightlifting division and Jim Mehnick tried out for the first time yesterday.

The status of two of last year's performers is still uncertain; Victor Barlow, leading short-dash man, and Phil Clark, all-around track man. Bernard Stern may be alone in the pole vault unless new skill appears. Robert Wilkinson has returned for distance events. Many promising sophomores ignored the first call to the field.

Club Backs Proposal to Stock Pike in Bear Lake

New London—The possibility of stocking Bear Lake with pike and producing a fishing haven in this vicinity was given full support of the New London Fish and Game club at its meeting at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall last night.

Two Manawa enthusiasts, William Voss and Ralph Conroy, appeared before the club and explained a proposed project to make the lake suitable for stocking. The men reported that the lake was well suited for pike but that the swift drop of the high water in the spring took most of the fish out of the lake with it. It is proposed that a dam be constructed at the outlet of the lake to regulate the level of the water during seasonal periods and hold the fish in the lake. It is anticipated that such a project could be accomplished with relief labor. The small sum needed for materials would be solicited from lakeside land owners, sporting enthusiasts and conservation groups.

Harry Allen was named chairman of a committee to cooperate with the Manawa group to the fullest extent. On the committee with him are Luke Thomas, Louis Schmaltz and Art Lasch, president of the New London club. Manawa has no conservation club.

Will Supply Cards Cards for reporting the spawn condition of pike between April 16 and 20 were not ready for distribution but plans were made to supply the entire area with the record sheets as soon as they are ready. Members of the club also were urged to report all fishing violations to the conservation wardens at Waupaca. All calls to Waupaca will be paid for there, President Lasch informed. Two years ago, Lasch pointed out, wardens pulled more than 230 traps from the Wolf river in this vicinity and last year but 36 were found, the decrease attributed to the activities of the club.

Arnold Zitske and Richard Runkel were named co-chairmen of a committee to study the run of carp and report good spearing periods to the club.

The question of building or buying a brooder house to raise 500 pheasant chicks promised this spring by the state department was considered and the final decision left to the board of directors. Also left to directors was to decide whether to continue meeting at the V. F. W. hall or transfer to the American Legion clubhouse or the city hall. The three buildings were offered for use without cost last year and the club has used the V. F. W. clubrooms during the last year.

Sandwiches and refreshments were served after the meeting.

Government Survey Of State Explained At Rotary Meeting

New London—A. C. Weber, Shawano Rotarian, explained government surveying to the New London Rotary club at its regular meeting at the Elwood hotel yesterday noon.

The government survey, he showed, is the basis of all real estate descriptions. The state is divided into townships of 36 square miles each and these are further divided into 36 sections of one square mile each. The sections are subdivided into quarters. The southern boundary of Wisconsin forms the base line for all north and south measurements in this state while east and west readings are made from the meridian line.

The speaker illustrated his topic with blackboard drawings and exhibited a copy of the first government survey in Wisconsin which was made in the vicinity of Green Bay in 1841.

milily, "love you." He wondered how he ever dared to say it.

"Oh!" The heat of a thousand furnaces burned in her face. He said proudly, "I suppose that is the crowning insult."

"Grun would think so, but— She was seized with a strange trembling. She sank down on the grass—"But—I—I!" She covered her face with her hands.

Never had he felt so utterly inadequate. He had conquered life, risen to undreamed-of heights by the sheer force of his will—but he stood by helpless—a bit scared.

He wondered what a man of her own world would have done under the circumstances.

And suddenly he knew that a man of her world would not have forced a situation of this sort. He would have acted more circumspectly and with finesse through a lawyer, maybe—avoiding anything that savored of bestowing a favor or paying a debt.

He said with a humility that sat strangely upon him: "I'm sor-

BY VICTOR EUBANK

New York—(AP)—Steels led a late recovery in today's stock market after the list had spent most of the session idling over a narrowly uneven range.

Prices edged forward at the start, then turned around and drifted, during the first three hours or so, with about as many stocks up as down. Gains ran to 2 or more at the best in the final lap. Dealings failed to pick up momentum on the rise. Top marks were reduced in some cases at the close. Transfers were around 650,000 shares.

The news picture was spotty and furnished no important stimulation for traders. Business still lagged and earnings and dividends on the whole, gave scant encouragement.

American Telephone was again a feature. It dropped 2 points in the forenoon after the brisk run-up yesterday.

Eastman Kodak shares, also said to have harbored a sizable short account, turned tables on sellers and jumped more than 3 points.

In the climbing column were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, International Telephone, General Foods, General Electric, Hiram Walker and Johns-Manville.

Chicago Wheat in Doldrums Despite Jump at Winnipeg

Canadian Upturns Attributed to Buying of Futures

Chicago—(AP)—Despite temporary jumps of 4 cents a bushel in May quotations at Winnipeg, Chicago wheat futures averaged lower today.

The Winnipeg upturns were attributed to buying of futures for European interests and for previous speculative sellers who were short of wheat to meet contract requirements. A majority of traders here apparently acted on belief that stimulating aspects of unofficial crop estimates issued here today had been fairly well discounted beforehand.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to 1/2 lower compared with yesterday's finish. May 8 1/2; July 7 1/2; corn 1/2 off to 1/2 up. May 5 1/2; July 6 1/2; and oats unchanged to 1/2 down.
